Acknowledgement of Country

The University of Melbourne acknowledges the Traditional Owners of the unceded land on which we work, learn and live: the Wurundjeri Woi Wurrung and Bunurong peoples (Burnley, Fishermans Bend, Parkville, Southbank and Werribee campuses), the Yorta Yorta Nation (Dookie and Shepparton campuses), and the Dja Dja Wurrung people (Creswick campus).

The University also acknowledges and is grateful to the Traditional Owners, Elders and Knowledge Holders of all Indigenous nations and clans who have been instrumental in our reconciliation journey.

We recognise the unique place held by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples as the original owners and custodians of the lands and waterways across the Australian continent, with histories of continuous connection dating back more than 60,000 years. We also acknowledge their enduring cultural practices of caring for Country.

The Faculty of Arts

The Faculty of Arts at the University of Melbourne is widely recognised as Australia's leading centre for the study of the Humanities and Social Sciences

The Faculty of Arts is committed to creating a workplace where equity, diversity and inclusion are celebrated and everyone is treated fairly, regardless of gender, sexuality, ability, ethnicity, religion or age. People with diverse experiences and especially Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders and other First Nation people are strongly encouraged to apply.

If you have any accessibility or other requirements for the application or interview, please contact us. We are dedicated to ensuring barrier free and inclusive practices to recruit the most talented candidates. A position description is available in alternate formats if required, including large print.

The Faculty of Arts at the University of Melbourne brings together leading scholars across 40 disciplines of study in the Humanities and Social Sciences. Our academic staff are of international standing and committed to excellence in teaching and research.

The Faculty is home to the University's first degree, the Bachelor of Arts, which is one of the most sought-after degrees in Australia, consistently attracting outstanding students from around the country and internationally. Our teaching programs encourage critical inquiry, creativity, global perspectives and the questioning of ideas. In 2016, the Faculty opened Arts West – an award-winning building in the heart of the historic campus and a new home for the Bachelor of Arts. Arts West supports active and informal learning through object-based learning laboratories and purpose-built teaching spaces which has transformed teaching and learning in the Humanities and Social Sciences, setting a new benchmark in the Asia region.

Our Graduate School of Humanities and Social Sciences offers 19 professionally oriented Masters programs, including Arts and Cultural Management, Applied Linguistics, Global Media Communication, International Relations and Public Policy and Management. The Graduate School also houses our outstanding PhD program.

Over its 150-year history, the Faculty has produced leaders in a wide range of fields, including government, business, creative industries and media, community and not-for-profit organisations. The Faculty maintains strong strategic relationships with leading international universities through joint teaching collaborations, research projects and student exchange programs. Partnerships with government, not-for-profit and private organisations facilitate work integrated learning opportunities for our students and research collaboration with our researchers. The Faculty has an active and vibrant outreach program, promoting lifelong learning in the Humanities and Social Sciences.

Our community includes over 700 academic and professional staff, 13,000 students across undergraduate, graduate coursework and research higher degree programs, and a strong and active alumni population of over 70,000 worldwide.

Alongside the Graduate School of Humanities and Social Sciences, the Faculty consists of five interdisciplinary Schools:

Asia Institute – the University's key centre for study in Asian languages and cultures, with programs including Arabic, Chinese, Indonesian and Japanese languages, alongside Asian, Islamic and Contemporary Chinese Studies.

School of Culture and Communication – with programs in Art History and Curatorship, Arts and Cultural Management, Gender Studies, Indigenous Studies, Creative Writing, English and Theatre Studies, Media and Communications, Publishing and Communications, Journalism, and Screen and Cultural Studies.

School of Historical and Philosophical Studies – encompassing History, History and Philosophy of Science, Philosophy, Jewish and Hebrew Studies, Conservation and Classics and Archaeology.

School of Languages and Linguistics – includes French, German, Italian, Russian and Spanish languages, alongside European studies, Latin American studies and Linguistics, Applied Linguistics and English as a Second Language.

School of Social and Political Sciences – with programs in Anthropology and Development Studies, Criminology, Political Science, and Sociology and Social Policy.

FACULTY OF ARTS STRATEGY

Under the leadership of Professor Russell Goulbourne, we have launched a Faculty of Arts Strategy focusing on:

- Transformative learning
- Research that makes a difference
- Partnerships that add value
- Support for all staff

Mission

The Faculty of Arts is committed to benefiting the peoples, cultures and economies of Melbourne, Australia, the region and the world.

We do this across our distinctively broad range of Humanities and Social Sciences disciplines by creating, transforming and sharing knowledge that deepens and enriches understanding of what it means to be human and by developing graduates whose skills, values and empathy enable them to shape better, fairer and more sustainable societies.

Values and Behaviours

We are committed to benefiting the peoples, cultures and economies of Melbourne, Australia, the Region and the World. We expect all our staff to commit to our values of:

- Rigour and integrity, generosity and humility, intellectual freedom and critical independence
- Diversity and inclusion, trust and mutual respect, social justice and civic responsibility
- Courage and creativity, openness and transparency, environmental sustainability.

Vision

Building on our achievements to date, by 2025 the Faculty of Arts will be:

- the leading faculty of our kind in the Asia-Pacific region and one of the most compelling in the world, known above all for the difference we make locally, nationally, regionally and globally
- home to a dynamic, diverse and inclusive community of staff and students who are committed to achieving our full potential by working together and with our partners in a spirit of courageous generosity
- transformed by recognising and engaging the ways of knowing held by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, on whose land we work

Position Description & Selection Criteria

It is essential that the Selection Criteria be addressed in the job application. At this university this means including a cover letter that addresses each of the criteria. Applications that fail to address the Selection Criteria explicitly will not be considered. If you have any queries about this, please contact Andrew Dodd (see 'how to apply' section below)

Position Summary

The School of Culture and Communication (SCC) seeks to appoint a fixed term Subject Coordinator to co-ordinate and teach the following Winter intensive offering in the Journalism program as a temporary replacement for the substantive coordinator:

Video Journalism \(JOUR90008\)

The Subject Coordinator reports to the Head of Program and is responsible for the coordination of teaching activities such as lectures, tutorials and/or seminars and the delivery of teaching for the subject in accordance with the Faculty's Local Operating rules. You will be responsible for all administrative tasks associated with the delivery and assessment of the subject and the development of subject teaching materials.

The School of Culture and Communication (SCC) recognises that the student cohort has become increasingly diverse. The Subject Coordinator is expected to draw on their expertise in facilitating a classroom experience that meets the needs of the student cohort as well as promoting scholarly inquiry.

Teaching Associates new to the Faculty will be required to complete all relevant training (Foundations, LMS, Themis etc.).

Key Responsibilities

The incumbent will possess well-established academic skills and strong academic performance

SUBJECT COORDINATION AND ADMINISTRATION

- Undertake subject coordination duties including the maintenance of Learning Management System (LMS) sites and subject guides.
- Prepare assessments in accordance with subject guidelines in the University Handbook and coordinate assessment processes, managing assessment extension requests as required.
- Undertake consultation with students;
- Manage breaches of academic integrity.
- Resolve student issues or escalate to the relevant Head of Program where necessary.
- Assist with Special Consideration queries and outcomes.
- Participate in meetings as required by the Head of Program and the School, including examination board meetings following completion of marking each semester.

TEACHING

- Prepare and conduct lectures, seminars, and tutorials in the required mode (eg. online, on campus, blended) to a high standard.
- Effectively and efficiently communicate with students via LMS and address frequently asked questions in relation to classes and assessment.
- Mark attendance as required and consider matters in relation to student absence, student behaviour, and problems associated with cancelled classes and clashes.
- Mark assessment, provide timely feedback to students and record results into the appropriate results record system.

LEADERSHIP AND SERVICE

- Contribution of professional expertise to the community.
- Attend meetings and undertake administrative and professional development activities in relation to the position where required.

- Compliance with University policy and procedural requirements.
- Other duties as required by your supervisor or the Head of School.

Selection Criteria

- Completion of a Doctoral or Master qualification in the relevant discipline or equivalent relevant academic or professional or practice-based experience and expertise.
- Demonstrated experience in teaching delivery;
- Demonstrated experience and expertise in the field of video journalism
- Experience in supervising, coaching and supporting staff and fostering an effective teaching team.
- Demonstrated knowledge and understanding of the learning orientations of a diverse student cohort, combined with the ability to apply this knowledge and understanding to create inclusive learning environments.
- Excellent written and verbal communication and interpersonal skills with the ability to work independently and as a member of a team.
- Excellent organisational skills with the ability to manage time effectively, work collaboratively, administer multiple tasks simultaneously and meet deadlines successfully.
- Ability to interpret and understand policies and procedures relevant to teaching and student support and welfare.
- Demonstrated professional and collegial behaviour of a high standard (encompassing commitment to the Faculty's Values and Behaviours outlined on page 5).

DESIRABLE

- Familiarity with the University of Melbourne's systems, policies and procedures and a willingness to undertake specific University training in technologies and procedures relevant to teaching practice.
- Commitment to continual improvement and professional development as an educator.

SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

- Employment in this position is conditional upon completion of the University's "fit and proper" checks where required and receipt of a valid Working with Children Check prior to commencement.

Equal Opportunity, Diversity & Inclusion

The University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to providing a workplace free from all forms of unlawful discrimination, harassment, bullying, vilification and victimisation. The University makes decisions on employment, promotion and reward on the basis of merit. The University is committed to all aspects of equal opportunity, diversity and inclusion in the workplace and to providing all staff, students, contractors, honorary appointees, volunteers and visitors with a safe, respectful and rewarding environment free from all forms of unlawful discrimination, harassment, vilification and victimisation. This commitment is set out in the Advancing Melbourne strategy that addresses diversity and inclusion, equal employment opportunity, discrimination, sexual harassment, bullying and appropriate workplace behaviour. All staff are required to comply with all University policies.

The University values diversity because we recognise that the differences in our people's age, race, ethnicity, culture, gender, nationality, sexual orientation, physical ability and background bring richness to our work environment. Consequently, the People Strategy sets out the strategic aim to drive diversity and inclusion across the University to create an environment where the compounding benefits of a diverse workforce are recognised as vital in our continuous desire to strive for excellence and reach the targets of Advancing Melbourne.

Occupational Health & Safety (OHS)

All staff are required to take reasonable care for their own health and safety and that of other personnel who may be affected by their conduct.

OHS responsibilities applicable to positions are published here.

These include general staff responsibilities and those additional responsibilities that apply for Managers and Supervisors and other Personnel.

The University of Melbourne

Established in 1853, the University of Melbourne is a public-spirited institution with an outstanding reputation for excellence in research, learning and teaching, and engagement.

Ranked number 31 in the latest Times Higher Education World University Rankings*, Melbourne competes on an international stage with the best institutions globally and has an international outlook and reach to match.

With a rich history stretching over 160 years, the University of Melbourne also occupies a special place in the heart of the city. Since its founding in 1853, the University has been a public-spirited institution committed to making distinctive contributions to intellectual, cultural, social and economic life in the region and beyond. These values underpin the University's entire academic mission and shape operating practices, preparing engaged graduates and steering research that advances the world.

With a wide range of disciplines, the University of Melbourne currently educates over 50,000+ students from over 130 countries. The University comprises ten Academic Divisions providing learning that stimulates, challenges and fulfils the potential of excellent students from around the world, leading to personal development, meaningful careers and profound contributions to society.

THE MELBOURNE MODEL

Building on long-standing traditions of leadership and innovation in teaching and embracing international developments in curriculum design, the University introduced the Melbourne Model in 2008. The distinctive educational model offers degrees in three broad cycles. At Bachelor level, students select from one of six broad degrees (offering a total of 87 major fields of study) and a limited number of specialist offerings. These programs lay the intellectual foundations for future employment or further study. Most professional qualifications are subsequently offered at Masters level, where students can choose from a variety of professional or specialist graduate programs offering intensive graduate-level experiences that promote deep professional learning. At Doctoral level, students work alongside and are nurtured by international research leaders in a broad range of fields.

The Melbourne Model's curriculum combines academic breadth with disciplinary depth to strategically reposition the University in an increasingly globalised higher education framework. The University prepares its students to enter a world marked by rapid change where graduates must possess the applicable knowledge, and flexible and adaptable skills, to succeed.

The University of Melbourne's Strategic Plan 2020 – 2030

Advancing Melbourne

The University's strategic direction is grounded in its purpose. While its expression may change, our purpose is enduring: to benefit society through the transformative impact of education and research. Together, the vision and purpose inform the focus and scale of our aspirations for the coming decade.

Advancing Melbourne reflects the University's commitment to its people, its place, and its partners. Our aspiration for 2030 is to be known as a world-leading and globally connected Australian university, with our students at the heart of everything we do.

- We will offer students a distinctive and outstanding education and experience, preparing them for success as leaders, change agents and global citizens.
- We will be recognised locally and globally for our leadership on matters of national and global importance, through outstanding research and scholarship and a commitment to collaboration.
- We will be empowered by our sense of place and connections with communities. We will take opportunities to advance both the University and the City of Melbourne in close collaboration and synergy.

- We will deliver this through building a brilliant, diverse and vibrant University community, with strong connections to those we serve.

The means for achieving these goals include the development of the University of Melbourne's academic and professional staff and the capabilities needed to support a modern, world class university. Those means require a commitment to ongoing financial sustainability and an ambitious infrastructure program which will reshape the campus and our contribution to the communities we engage with. This strategy, and the priorities proposed, is centred around five intersecting themes; place, community, education, discovery and global.

People and Benefits

The University is committed to providing an intellectually stimulating and personally rewarding workplace which attracts people who are the best in their professional, academic and teaching fields
