Position Summary

Reporting to the Director of Advancement (MDHS), the Head of Alumni and Stakeholder Relations performs a critical role within the MDHS Advancement Unit, and is responsible for the development and implementation of the Advancement office’s strategies for stakeholder relations, including a program of alumni relations, and advancement communications and events for the Faculty. The incumbent will be responsible for ensuring that the MDHS strategies for alumni relations and the subsequent programs and activities, are in line and coordinated with University’s advancement strategies.

The position’s main accountability will be to manage a team of Advancement professionals responsible for delivering a strategic and coordinated program of events and communications that is focused on maximising engagement with alumni and donors. In order to do this, the incumbent will work closely with the Director of Advancement and the Deputy Director, Development to develop and implement a strategic plan that delivers on the Faculty’s goals for alumni relations and donor engagement.

The Alumni and Donor Relations team is core to the success of MDHS Advancement’s goals and the incumbent is expected to manage the team to ensure consistent high-quality delivery of all its programs.

High-level relationship development and interpersonal skills, staff and volunteer management skills, the ability to prioritise tasks and to influence colleagues and stakeholders are critical to the effective delivery of this role. The role requires high levels of diplomacy, a high level of attention to detail, and a sound understanding of IT and other systems that support the management of stakeholder engagement programs, such as the alumni database and event management systems.

1. Key Responsibilities

The Head of Alumni and Stakeholder Relations has the following specific responsibilities:

1.1 TEAMWORK, SERVICE DELIVERY AND MANAGEMENT

- Manage a team of Advancement professionals to maximise the Faculty’s ability to achieve its goals in alumni and stakeholder relations, including delivering a high quality alumni relations program and events and communications that achieve positive outcomes.
- Ensure that sufficient quality processes are in place to ensure high quality outcomes for activities and communications delivered by the stakeholder relations team.
- Contribute actively to the creation and delivery of professional development opportunities for staff within the team and more broadly across the unit.
- Serve as an active member of the Advancement team, encouraging a strong, supportive, safe and enjoyable office culture and modeling desired behaviours to achieve this.
- Ensure the Direct of Advancement is informed of key issues emerging that relate to programming, delivery, staffing and budgets.
- Set goals and directions for the future, and link individual and team targets to Faculty, University and Advancement objectives.
- Undertake the performance development review process for direct reports ensuring PDF objectives are linked to Faculty objectives.
Occupational Health and Safety (OH&S) and Environmental Health and Safety (EH&S) responsibilities as outlined in section 6.

1.2 STRATEGY AND PROGRAM MANAGEMENT

- Working closely with the Director of Advancement and the Deputy Director, Development to develop, implement and manage the Faculty’s strategies for external engagement including a program of events, alumni relations programs, and a targeted suite of communications.
- Produce, implement and review annual operational plans, including meeting cyclical performance management and review processes, agreed income budgets and other operational targets for the Faculty for any given performance period.
- Manage the budget expenditure related to Alumni Relations activities complying with the University’s financial procedures.
- Implement, oversee and evaluate the development and delivery of the alumni and stakeholder relations program locally, nationally and internationally.
- Develop a systematic way to measure and report on the engagement program, including the reach and impact and ways to improve. Continue to harness new technology to deliver reports on outcomes so as to enable Advancement staff to respond and plan strategically and effectively.
- Participate actively in Faculty and University working groups and committees, and ensure that information is appropriately disseminated through the Unit.
- Manage the alumni relations, events and communications teams and maximise their contribution to and coordination within the broader Advancement team.
- Deliver a suite of programs and communications that support the achievement of the Advancement strategies for the Faculty, ensuring that all programs are coordinated with existing programs within the University and Faculty.

1.3 LIAISON

- Liaison with relevant Advancement and Faculty staff in order to identify needs and establish a coordinated, strategic engagement program.
- Liaison with members of external Boards and Committees, where appropriate.
- Liaison with the Dean, Deputy Dean and Associate Deans to provide support for the management of relationships with partner hospitals and institutes.
- Regular liaison with the MDHS Marketing and Communications team, and the University Advancement Office to ensure programs are coordinated and opportunities for engagement are maximised.

1.4 REPORTING

- Prepare internal reports, as required.
- Prepare reports (event briefing notes, post-event assessment, etc), as required.
2. Selection Criteria

2.1 ESSENTIAL

- A post-graduate qualification in a relevant discipline with extensive experience in alumni relations, communications and/or event management, or an equivalent combination of relevant extensive experience and education/training.
- Demonstrable record as a successful manager able to operate in a large, complex organisation.
- Outstanding oral and written communications skills, and demonstrated ability to create programs and communications to engage external audiences including alumni, supporters, donors, volunteers and friends of the University.
- Proven ability in budget management and planning processes with excellent conceptual and analytical skills.
- High-level interpersonal skills, with demonstrated ability to develop relationships at all levels, including the ability to determine client needs in an influential and efficient way.
- Experience working with volunteers to achieve identified outcomes and understanding of strategies to manage volunteers effectively.
- Experience leading a team in a fast-paced environment, to deliver high quality results and enable a high level of staff satisfaction and motivation.
- Experience developing and managing engagement programs, including events locally and internationally, projects and communications to achieve strategic outcomes in time and within budget.
- High level of knowledge of and experience in strategic and operational planning and the organisational skills to ensure successful delivery of programs and services.
- High level of attention to detail and exceptionally high standards of accuracy and the ability to prioritise competing deadlines and assignments.

2.2 DESIRABLE

- Knowledge of, and experience working in the higher education sector
- Experience of working in a University advancement environment

3. Special Requirements

Preparedness to travel and to work outside normal office hours as required

4. Job Complexity, Skills, Knowledge

4.1 LEVEL OF SUPERVISION / INDEPENDENCE

The position exercises a high level of judgement and independence in its responsibilities. The incumbent will regularly report to the Director of Advancement, MDHS and liaise regularly with other staff in the Advancement Unit, in particular the Deputy Director, Development. They will also collaborate closely with other colleagues in the Faculty of Medicine, Dentistry and Health Sciences, the Advancement Office and across the University. This position has delegation authority to manage the budget up to a cap. The incumbent will operate ethically and will possess the maturity and confidence to represent MDHS, and the wider University externally. Critically, the incumbent must present as an exemplar to the community and University colleagues.

4.2 PROBLEM SOLVING AND JUDGEMENT

The Head of Alumni and Stakeholder Relations is expected to review existing strategies and procedures to identify and develop solutions appropriate to current needs and goals, modifying them as appropriate. As Advancement is an evolving function within the University, the incumbent will need to be able to deal with high levels of organisational complexity, and be required to demonstrate leadership skills and sound judgement in the solving of operational challenges and management of internal and external relationships. In representing the University, the incumbent is expected to operate in a professional capacity, establishing and maintaining relationships on an appropriate basis. The incumbent must also be able to conceptualise new approaches and strategies and be responsive to changing circumstances. The incumbent will be required to exercise a degree of independence in the management of workload and the prioritisation of tasks.

4.3 PROFESSIONAL AND ORGANISATIONAL KNOWLEDGE

The position requires a sound knowledge of the University’s strategic directions and a detailed understanding of the inter-relationships within the University especially as they apply to advancement. Strong relationships with key internal staff – both academic and professional, and knowledge of public programs offered by the University, are necessary to capture information in a timely way and act on it. Professional skills in or sophisticated understanding of relationship management, fundraising, policy development, events management, and personal development would be an advantage.

4.4 RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

The Head of Alumni and Stakeholder Relations is responsible for managing resources allocated for the purposes of the Faculty’s alumni relations, advancement communications and events activity and must have experience and knowledge in planning and managing of financial resources.

4.5 BREADTH OF THE POSITION

The Head of Alumni and Stakeholder Relations communicates with a wide range of stakeholders including Faculty staff, University administrative staff, staff within research institutes and partner hospitals and other advancement staff across the University. In addition to managing a team the Head of Alumni and Stakeholder Relations is required to maintain connections with key stakeholders including alumni, staff, students and key partner organisations, both within locally and internationally.
5. Equal Opportunity, Diversity and Inclusion

The University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to providing a workplace free from all forms of unlawful discrimination, harassment, bullying, vilification and victimisation. The University makes decisions on employment, promotion and reward on the basis of merit.

The University is committed to all aspects of equal opportunity, diversity and inclusion in the workplace and to providing all staff, students, contractors, honorary appointees, volunteers and visitors with a safe, respectful and rewarding environment free from all forms of unlawful discrimination, harassment, vilification and victimisation. This commitment is set out in the University’s People Strategy 2015-2020 and policies that address diversity and inclusion, equal employment opportunity, discrimination, sexual harassment, bullying and appropriate workplace behaviour. All staff are required to comply with all University policies.

The University values diversity because we recognise that the differences in our people’s age, race, ethnicity, culture, gender, nationality, sexual orientation, physical ability and background bring richness to our work environment. Consequently, the People Strategy sets out the strategic aim to drive diversity and inclusion across the University to create an environment where the compounding benefits of a diverse workforce are recognised as vital in our continuous desire to strive for excellence and reach the targets of Growing Esteem.

6. Occupational Health and Safety (OHS)

All staff are required to take reasonable care for their own health and safety and that of other personnel who may be affected by their conduct.

The Campaign is the largest initiative of its kind in the Asia-Pacific region.

UoMA’s Vision – Partnering for Impact

Advancement is a catalyst that leads to positive impact on the University, the city, the state, Australia and the world.

Mission

We do this in deep and genuine partnership with our generous alumni, supporters and academic colleagues.

To do this we will work in partnership with:

- Academic and professional colleagues to identify, curate, hone and present wonderful philanthropic and engagement opportunities that support our outstanding researchers, teachers and students and the spaces in which they live and work
- Donors to match and connect these opportunities to their passions
- Alumni, friends and current students to develop mutual and lifelong benefit by sharing skills, expertise and networks

Guiding Principles

- We are ‘One Advancement’ working together towards collective goals
- We are driven both by university strategies and the opportunities presented by our supporters’ passions
- We strive for outcomes through strong partnerships that deliver impact – both with university colleagues and with our community stakeholders
- We create opportunities for the university to come together with supporters to make a difference in the world and benefit the communities with whom we engage
- We build enduring, purposeful relationships that are stakeholder-centric and mutually-beneficial
- Our decision making and resource allocation are based on expert knowledge, research insights and data
- We recognise the impact of both financial and non-financial contributions
We operate sustainably at both the organisational and personal levels

Foundation Values
Our work will be guided always by our Values:

- Integrity – we are honest, trustworthy, understanding and sincere
- Collaboration – we are supportive of each other and work as a team toward improved collective outcomes
- Innovation – we prize creativity and act with courage to progress our objectives
- Professionalism – we are committed, focused, accountable, respectful and proud of the work we do

Behaviours
We look to encourage the following behaviours across Advancement:

- Prioritise based on our strategic direction and purpose
- Don’t go it alone – explore and exchange expertise, knowledge and institutional memory with colleagues across Advancement
- Be willing to innovate and test new approaches
- Support each other to think, speak and act courageously in pursuit of the best outcomes
- Be responsive and decisive taking both personal and collective accountability

7.3 THE UNIVERSITY OF MELBOURNE

Established in 1853, the University of Melbourne is a leading international university with a tradition of excellence in teaching and research. The main campus in Parkville is recognised as the hub of Australia’s premier knowledge precinct comprising eight hospitals, many leading research institutes and a wide-range of knowledge-based industries. With outstanding performance in international rankings, the University is at the forefront of higher education in the Asia-Pacific region and the world.

The University employs people of outstanding calibre and offers a unique environment where staff are valued and rewarded.

7.4 GROWING ESTEEM, THE MELBOURNE CURRICULUM AND RESEARCH AT MELBOURNE: ENSURING EXCELLENCE AND IMPACT TO 2025

Growing Esteem describes Melbourne’s strategy to achieve its aspiration to be a public-spirited and internationally-engaged institution, highly regarded for making distinctive contributions to society in research and research training, learning and teaching, and engagement. http://about.unimelb.edu.au/strategy-and-leadership

The University is at the forefront of Australia’s changing higher education system and offers a distinctive model of education known collectively as the Melbourne Curriculum. The new educational model, designed for an outstanding experience for all students, is based on six broad undergraduate programs followed by a graduate professional degree, research higher degree or entry directly into employment. The emphasis on academic breadth as well as disciplinary depth in the new degrees ensures that graduates will have the capacity to succeed in a world where knowledge boundaries are shifting and reforming to create new frontiers and challenges. In moving to the new model, the University is also aligning itself with the best of emerging European and Asian practice and well-established North American traditions.

The University’s global aspirations seek to make significant contributions to major social, economic and environmental challenges. Accordingly, the University’s research strategy Research at Melbourne: Ensuring Excellence and Impact to 2025 aspires to a significant advancement in the excellence and impact of its research outputs.
http://research.unimelb.edu.au/our-research/research-at-melbourne

The strategy recognises that as a public-spirited, research-intensive institution of the future, the University must strive to make a tangible impact in Australia and the world, working across disciplinary and sectoral boundaries and building deeper and more substantive engagement with industry, collaborators and partners. While cultivating the fundamental enabling disciplines through investigator-driven research, the University has adopted three grand challenges aspiring to solve some of the most difficult problems facing our world in the next century. These Grand Challenges include:

- Understanding our place and purpose – The place and purpose grand challenge centres on understanding all aspects of our national identity, with a focus on Australia’s ‘place’ in the Asia-Pacific region and the world, and on our ‘purpose’ or mission to improve all dimensions of the human condition through our research.
- Fostering health and wellbeing – The health and wellbeing grand challenge focuses on building the scale and breadth of our capabilities in population and global health; on harnessing our contribution to the ‘convergence revolution’ of biomedical and health research, bringing together the life sciences, engineering and the physical sciences; and on addressing the physical, mental and social aspects of wellbeing by looking beyond the traditional boundaries of biomedicine.
- Supporting sustainability and resilience – The sustainability and resilience grand challenge addresses the critical issues of climate change, water and food security, sustainable energy and designing resilient cities and regions. In addition to the technical aspects, this grand challenge considers the physical and social functioning of cities, connecting physical phenomena with lessons from our past, and the implications of the technical solutions for economies, living patterns and behaviours.

Essential to tackling these challenges, an outstanding faculty, high performing students, wide collaboration including internationally and deep partnerships with external parties form central components of Research at Melbourne: Ensuring Excellence and Impact to 2025.

7.5 GOVERNANCE

The Vice Chancellor is the Chief Executive Officer of the University and responsible to Council for the good management of the University.
