Acknowledgement of Country

The University of Melbourne acknowledge the Elders, and descendants of the Wurundjeri people who have been and are the Custodians of these lands. We acknowledge that the land on which we meet was the place of age-old ceremonies, of celebration, initiation and renewal, and that the local Aboriginal peoples have had and continue to have a unique role in the life of these lands.

Position Summary

The Melbourne School of Psychological Sciences is one of the leading schools of Psychology in Australia, with active research programs in Cognitive and Behavioural Neuroscience, Clinical Science, Cognitive and Mathematical Psychology, and Social and Personality Psychology. The School has recently established research hubs in Complex Human Data, Decision Science, Ethics and Well-being, and Brain and Mental Health and has also developed major initiatives in behaviour change (Melbourne Centre for Behaviour Change) and contemplative studies (Centre for Contemplative Studies). We have a large undergraduate teaching program and diverse postgraduate research and professional training programs.

We are seeking to appoint an outstanding individual to assist with the organisation and operations of the Melbourne Centre for Behaviour Change within the Melbourne School of Psychological Sciences. This will include assistance with organising events, visits by international or guest speakers, grant writing, ethics applications, research activities, managing the Centre’s online and media presence, and contributions to the School’s media strategy. The role will also liaise closely with the School Professional staff team to ensure optimum support for Centre activities and academic groups within the Centre. These tasks will be equivalent to a 1.0 FTE. The successful incumbent will report to Professor Iain Walker, Centre Director, and will also assist Dr Michelle Jongenelis, Centre Deputy Director.

The School fosters a values-based culture of innovation and creativity to enhance the research performance of the University and to achieve excellence in research and learning and teaching outcomes. We also invest in developing the careers and wellbeing of our students and staff and expect all our leaders to live our values of (i) Collaboration and teamwork, (ii) Compassion, (iii) Respect, (iv) Integrity, and (v) Accountability.

- Assist with research contract proposals and finalisation
- Facilitate communication and engagement with the Centre’s research partners and affiliates from other faculties and external organisations.
- Engage in other research activities, as appropriate
Collaborate in the development of manuscripts for publication, as appropriate

1.2 ACADEMIC SUPPORT OPERATIONS

- Regularly liaise with staff and students to support Centre activities. This includes recording of actions and followup from the Centre planning meetings and coordinating the implementation of Centre activities.
- Organise and coordinate regular Centre meetings and events, including monthly meetings and presentations from internal and guest speakers (room bookings, drafting event flyers, promotion of events within the school, AV assistance, and convening events).
- Coordinate major events run through the Centre, such as research symposia, small conferences, or workshops.
- Facilitate visits from international academic guests. This may include booking flights and accommodation, arranging public or internal talks, and organising meetings or activities during visits.
- Assist with managing the Centre’s finances by liaising with the School professional staff team and communicating academic priorities.
- Work with the MSPS Operations Team to ensure smooth running of Centre activities and facilities.

1.3 MCBC PROFILE

- Maintaining the Centre’s public profile channels, including updating the website, brochures, social media, etc
- Composing and editing news items, event updates, and potentially assist with the production of videos, magazine articles, public lectures, etc
- Working closely with the MSPS Engagement team on designing academic content for activities to increase MCBC profile.

2. Selection Criteria

2.1 ESSENTIAL

- A relevant tertiary degree
- Demonstrated ability to work both independently and as part of a team.
- Demonstrated excellent organisation and time management skills
- Demonstrated excellent verbal and written communication skills
- Strong interest in working in a research environment and in coordinating team activities
- Knowledge of psychology / public health environments
- Experience in project management, including managing multiple projects and team members

2.2 DESIRABLE

- A completed PhD
- Competence in quantitative and/or qualitative methods and analysis
3. Equal Opportunity, Diversity, and Inclusion

The University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to providing a workplace free from all forms of unlawful discrimination, harassment, bullying, vilification and victimisation. The University makes decisions on employment, promotion, and reward on the basis of merit.

The University is committed to all aspects of equal opportunity, diversity and inclusion in the workplace and to providing all staff, students, contractors, honorary appointees, volunteers and visitors with a safe, respectful and rewarding environment free from all forms of unlawful discrimination, harassment, vilification and victimisation. This commitment is set out in the Advancing Melbourne strategy that addresses diversity and inclusion, equal employment opportunity, discrimination, sexual harassment, bullying and appropriate workplace behaviour. All staff are required to comply with all University policies.

The University values diversity because we recognise that the differences in our people’s age, race, ethnicity, culture, gender, nationality, sexual orientation, physical ability and background bring richness to our work environment. Consequently, the People Strategy sets out the strategic aim to drive diversity and inclusion across the University to create an environment where the compounding benefits of a diverse workforce are recognised as vital in our continuous desire to strive for excellence and reach the targets of Advancing Melbourne.

4. Occupational Health and Safety (OHS)

All staff are required to take reasonable care for their own health and safety and that of other personnel who may be affected by their conduct.

5.2 FACULTY OF MEDICINE, DENTISTRY AND HEALTH SCIENCES
www.mdhs.unimelb.edu.au

The Faculty of Medicine, Dentistry & Health Sciences has an enviable research record and is the University of Melbourne’s largest faculty in terms of management of financial resources, employment of academic and professional staff, teaching of undergraduate and postgraduate (including research higher degree) students and the conduct of basic and applied research.

The Faculty’s annual revenue is $628m with approximately 55% of this income related to research activities. The Faculty has a student teaching load in excess of 8,500 equivalent full-time students including more than 1,300 research higher degree students. The Faculty has approximately 2,195 staff comprising 642 professional staff and 1,553 research and teaching staff.

The Faculty has appointed Australia’s first Associate Dean (Indigenous Development) to lead the development and implementation of the Faculty’s Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP), which will be aligned with the broader University – wide plan. To enable the Faculty to improve its Indigenous expertise knowledge base, the Faculty’s RAP will address Indigenous employment, Indigenous student recruitment and retention, Indigenous cultural recognition and building partnerships with the Indigenous community as key areas of development.

5.3 THE UNIVERSITY OF MELBOURNE

Established in 1853, the University of Melbourne is a leading international university with a tradition of excellence in teaching and research. The main campus in Parkville is recognised as the hub of Australia’s premier knowledge precinct comprising eight hospitals, many leading research institutes and a wide-range of knowledge-based industries. With outstanding performance in international rankings, the University is at the forefront of higher education in the Asia-Pacific region and the world.

The University employs people of outstanding calibre and offers a unique environment where staff are valued and rewarded.

5.4 ADVANCING MELBOURNE

The University’s strategic direction is grounded in its purpose. While its expression may change, our purpose is enduring: to benefit society through the transformative impact of education and research. Together, the vision and purpose inform the focus and scale of our aspirations for the coming decade.

Advancing Melbourne reflects the University’s commitment to its people, its place, and its partners. Our aspiration for 2030 is to be known as a world-leading and globally connected Australian university, with our students at the heart of everything we do.

- We will offer students a distinctive and outstanding education and experience, preparing them for success as leaders, change agents and global citizens.
- We will be recognised locally and globally for our leadership on matters of national and global importance, through outstanding research and scholarship and a commitment to collaboration.
- We will be empowered by our sense of place and connections with communities. We will take opportunities to advance both the University and the City of Melbourne in close collaboration and synergy.
- We will deliver this through building a brilliant, diverse and vibrant University community, with strong connections to those we serve.

The means for achieving these goals include the development of the University of Melbourne’s academic and professional staff and the capabilities needed to support a modern, world-class university. Those means require a commitment to ongoing financial sustainability and an ambitious infrastructure program which will reshape the campus and our contribution to the communities we engage with. This strategy, and the priorities proposed, is centred around five intersecting themes: place, community, education, discovery and global.
