ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

The University of Melbourne acknowledges the Traditional Owners of the unceded land on which we work, learn and live: the Wurundjeri Woi Wurrung and Bunurong peoples (Burnley, Fishermans Bend, Parkville, Southbank and Werribee campuses), the Yorta Yorta Nation (Dookie and Shepparton campuses), and the Dja Dja Wurrung people (Creswick campus).

The University also acknowledges and is grateful to the Traditional Owners, Elders and Knowledge Holders of all Indigenous nations and clans who have been instrumental in our reconciliation journey.

We recognise the unique place held by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples as the original owners and custodians of the lands and waterways across the Australian continent, with histories of continuous connection dating back more than 60,000 years. We also acknowledge their enduring cultural practices of caring for Country.

We pay respect to Elders past, present and future, and acknowledge the importance of Indigenous knowledge in the Academy. As a community of researchers, teachers, professional staff and students we are privileged to work and learn every day with Indigenous colleagues and partners.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MELBOURNE

Established in 1853, the University of Melbourne is a leading international university with a tradition of excellence in teaching and research. The main campus in Parkville is recognised as the hub of Australia's premier knowledge precinct comprising eight hospitals, many leading research institutes and a wide-range of knowledge-based industries. With outstanding performance in international rankings, the University is at the forefront of higher education in the Asia-Pacific region and the world.

The University of Melbourne employs people of outstanding calibre and offers a unique environment where staff are valued and rewarded.

- Research, Innovation and Commercialisation
- Student and Scholarly Services

STUDENT AND SCHOLARLY SERVICES

Student and Scholarly Services provides student administration and services from recruitment and point of enquiry to graduation. This team also delivers wellbeing and scholarly services to students and staff.

The Health Service is a general practice specifically for staff, students and families of students of the University of Melbourne. The Health Service operates as a unit of Wellbeing Services which is a department comprising of a suite of services tailored to the needs of the university community. The Health Service shares the mission of Wellbeing Services which is to ensure our clients are provided with the support, skills, tools, and professional advice to enable them to complete their studies and ensure a positive University of Melbourne experience.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY, DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

The University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to providing a workplace free from all forms of unlawful discrimination, harassment, bullying, vilification and victimisation. The University makes decisions on employment, promotion, and reward on the basis of merit.

The University is committed to all aspects of equal opportunity, diversity and inclusion in the workplace and to providing all staff, students, contractors, honorary appointees, volunteers and visitors with a safe, respectful and rewarding environment free from all forms of unlawful discrimination, harassment, vilification and victimisation. This commitment is set out in the Advancing Melbourne strategy that addresses diversity and inclusion, equal employment opportunity, discrimination, sexual harassment, bullying and appropriate workplace behaviour. All staff are required to comply with all University policies.

The University values diversity because we recognise that the differences in our people's age, race, ethnicity, culture, gender, nationality, sexual orientation, physical ability and background bring richness to our work environment. Consequently, the People Strategy sets out the strategic aim to drive diversity and inclusion across the University to create an environment where the compounding benefits of a diverse workforce are recognised as vital in our continuous desire to strive for excellence and reach the targets of Advancing Melbourne.

ABOUT THE ROLE

The Administration Lead (AL) reports to the Health Service Manager and will provide high quality administrative oversight to the Health Service. The AL's principal responsibility is to ensure that the administrative functions of the Health Service are provided in a professional and timely manner, overseeing the work of permanent and agency Administration staff and being the interface between administration staff and health professionals at the service.

Under the direction of the Manager, the AL is responsible for the effective administration of the Health Service. The AL will develop and maintain effective working relationships with all Health Service colleagues, the university community, and other stake holders to promote a high quality and timely service delivery. As part of their role they will lead and mentor all other administrative roles in the Health Service. The AL is expected to work in a flexible and changing environment including changing operational requirements that may necessitate them to perform additional administration functions.

The AL is responsible for providing oversight and supervision to administrative assistants for a range of administrative tasks including; the provision of medical reception support, maintenance of the patient database and medical records, financial management as well as general administrative support. The AL is required to display a high standard of customer relationships, an exemplary understanding of administrative support functions, independent judgment and professionalism, mentoring capabilities, and is required to work with initiative, maturity, discretion, and collaboration with other team members, and to work closely with the manager. Being able to delegate well is an essential part of the role.

The AL has delegated responsibilities in the absence of the Health Service Manager, including providing direction and delegating duties for the administrative staff as deemed appropriate.
