ORGANISATIONAL CONTEXT

Monash is full of thinkers and doers who are looking for their next challenge. So if you’ve forged a rewarding career so far, this role provides the perfect platform to join us. You’ll have access to quality research facilities, infrastructure and teaching spaces to do exciting work, along with opportunities to collaborate internationally. You’ll be part of a University that’s made up of inspirational, challenging thinkers and doers – and continue doing work that makes a lasting impact. Discover more at www.monash.edu.

Monash Arts is one of the largest, most diverse and dynamic arts faculties in Australia, with particular strengths in the humanities, performing arts, languages and social sciences. We encourage the development of innovative studies that operate at the intersection of traditional academic disciplines. The Faculty delivers programs via seven schools and across six campuses, both in Australia and offshore, with courses ranging from undergraduate diplomas and degrees through to postgraduate coursework and research degrees. Monash Arts is justly proud of the research capacity of its staff, who work at the cutting edge in their fields and carry this expertise and enthusiasm into their teaching. To learn more about Monash Arts, please visit our website: http://future.arts.monash.edu/.

The Australian Centre for Jewish Civilisation (ACJC) is a leading tertiary centre for Jewish studies, discover more at https://arts.monash.edu/acjc/. The Centre offers minor sequences in Jewish studies and Holocaust and Genocide Studies. The minor in Jewish studies includes Modern Jewish history, Modern Israel, The Arab-Israel conflict, The Modern Middle East, War and peace: models of conflict resolution, and Post-conflict: justice, memory and reconciliation.

The Holocaust and Genocide Studies minor provides study sequences focused on knowledge about the Holocaust and other cases of genocide. Leading international scholars contribute each year to the program culminating in an annual international Aftermath conference. Students undertaking the minor in Holocaust and Genocide Studies are taught to consider the complex issues of genocidal violence, ideology, displaced persons and refugees, human rights, international law, ethics, cultural memory, and community regeneration. A key component of the program is the Shoah Visual History Archive held by Monash University, a prime resource for student engagement and scholarly research. The ACJC is also a leader in overseas study units.

POSITION PURPOSE

The Pratt Foundation Chair is a teaching and research Professorship based in the Australian Centre for Jewish Civilisation. The appointee will be an outstanding academic who has excelled in undergraduate teaching and postgraduate supervision and has a highly successful record in academic research in a field of Jewish studies. The position requires proven leadership skills and attributes to direct and guide the Centre into the next phase of its strategic development. The incumbent has the capacity to:

- Identify and act upon opportunities for advancing subject offerings within Jewish studies;
- Ensure effective interaction between the Centre’s programs and other parts of the faculty and University, particularly in relation to cooperative teaching and research activities; and
- Participate effectively in the School of Philosophical, Historical and International Studies policy-making and management process

The Professor will also hold the position of Director, Australian Centre for Jewish Civilisation, for a period of 3 years, with responsibility for leading and coordinating the teaching and research activities of the Centre. The Director is responsible for management of the Centre; building its teaching profile across the Faculty; building research capacity; and enhancing research performance. A key component of the role is external engagement and involvement with the Jewish community through ongoing development of the Centre’s external activities, which include an innovative and expansive public program.

The position of Pratt Foundation Chair will be held for 5 years, and may be extended after a review for an additional 5 years at the discretion of the University. The position will be underpinned by a continuing appointment as Professor.

Reporting Line: The position reports to the Head, School of Philosophical, International and Historical Studies
