DEPARTMENT/UNIT	Korean Studies
FACULTY/DIVISION	Faculty of Arts
CLASSIFICATION	Level B
DESIGNATED CAMPUS OR LOCATION	Clayton campus

ORGANISATIONAL CONTEXT

Everyone needs a platform to launch a satisfying career. At Monash, we give you the space and support to take your career in all kinds of exciting new directions. You'll have access to quality research, infrastructure and learning facilities, opportunities to collaborate internationally, as well as the grants you'll need to publish your work. We're a university full of energetic and enthusiastic minds, driven to challenge what's expected, expand what we know, and learn from other inspiring, empowering thinkers. Discover more at www.monash.edu.

The position is located within the School of Languages, Literatures, Cultures and Linguistics, one of the largest Schools in the Faculty of Arts. Members teach and conduct research across nine European and Asian languages and literatures, literary and cultural studies, linguistics and applied linguistics, history and the social sciences, as well as in several interdisciplinary fields. The School's Programs offer studies at undergraduate, honours and postgraduate levels. A variety of in-country programs and short courses are available to students. The School has a wide network of international connections, engages in international research projects, and is involved in collaborative teaching with partner universities abroad.

The Korean Studies Program is one of the most rapidly growing programs in language and culture at Monash University. It is taught on the Clayton campus and offers language courses from beginner to advanced level, and content courses on Korean culture, society, history and linguistics taught in English. The Program also provides graduate supervision on Korea-related research topics that reflect the expertise of its academic staff, including Korean cinema, history, cultural studies, linguistics, language pedagogy and translation. Monash University Korean Studies is the recipient of the prestigious AKS (Academy of Korean Studies) Core Universities Project grant (2017-2022) and founded the Monash University Korean Studies Research Hub (MUKSRH) with an aim to produce world-class research, increase student numbers, provide greater opportunities for student engagement with industry, and increase interest in Korean Studies in the Melbourne and Metropolitan region. Since 2017, Monash University Korean Studies has increased enrolment by 50%, added five new Korean Studies content units to the curriculum, supported two post-doctoral positions, established two new PhD students, and held three international conferences and over twenty seminars.

POSITION PURPOSE

A Level B academic is expected to make contributions to the teaching effort of the University and to carry out activities to maintain and develop their scholarly, research and/or professional activities relevant to the profession or discipline.

The Level B Academic will be expected to coordinate and teach in the expanding undergraduate Korean Studies program at Monash University, engage in team-teaching, develop new content units and participate in curriculum development. We are particularly interested in candidates capable of teaching Korean and Asian popular culture and who have a strong track record of research in these fields, but we welcome applications from other areas of Korean Studies. Candidates will need to be able to teach Korean language at all levels. The Level B Academic will also undertake research supervision of HDR students; engage in original and innovative research (including, potentially, collaborative research), participate in grant applications, and engage in various administrative tasks within the Korean Studies program and School.
