The Faculty of Information Technology aims to lead global IT research and education. Our strong reputation and international profile attracts the best students worldwide and we offer a range of accredited courses that transform our graduates into highly skilled and sought after IT professionals, equipped to work globally. Our research is multidisciplinary, multi-campus and multinational, giving us a unique capacity to reach out further and deeper than any other institution in Australia. Our research priorities are both technically ambitious and embedded in everyday life. To learn more about the Faculty and the exciting work we do, please visit our website: www.monash.edu/it.

The Department of Human-Centred Computing (HCC) is helping to project, shape and create the current technology revolution. Through our innovative IT research, we bring together people and advanced technology to pursue a brighter digital future. We are Australia's leading centre for human-centred computing with expertise spanning information systems to advanced visualization, learning analytics, interaction design, digital ethnography and inclusive technologies.

Information systems research sits within the Digital Equity and Digital Transformation Discipline Group in the Department of Human-Centred Computing (HCC). We have recently appointed a Professor in Information Systems, Professor Juliana Sutanto, to lead information systems research and education within the Faculty of IT and we are recruiting multiple Lecturers and Senior Lecturers to join the Faculty and work with her.
