THE UNIVERSITY OF QUEENSLAND

The University of Queensland (UQ) contributes positively to society by engaging in the creation, preservation, transfer and application of knowledge. UQ helps shape the future by bringing together and developing leaders in their fields to inspire the next generation and to advance ideas that benefit the world. UQ strives for the personal and professional success of its students, staff and alumni. For more than a century, we have educated and worked with outstanding people to deliver knowledge leadership for a better world.

UQ ranks in the world's top universities, as measured by several key independent ranking, including the Performance Ranking of Scientific Papers for World Universities (45), the US News Best Global Universities Rankings (52), QS World University Rankings (51), Academic Ranking of World Universities (55), and the Times Higher Education World University Rankings (60). UQ again topped the nation in the prestigious Nature Index; and secured a greater share of Australian Research Council grants in 2016 ($24.5 million) than any other university nationally.

UQ has an outstanding reputation for the quality of its teachers, its educational programs and employment outcomes for its students. Our students remain at the heart of what we do. The UQ experience – the UQ Advantage – is distinguished by a research enriched curriculum, international collaborations, industry engagement and opportunities that nurture and develop future leaders. UQ has a strong focus on teaching excellence, winning more national teaching excellence awards than any other in the country and attracting the majority of Queensland's highest academic achievers, as well as top interstate and overseas students.

UQ is one of Australia's Group of Eight, a charter member of edX and a founding member of Universitas 21, an international consortium of leading research-intensive universities.

Our 50,000-plus strong student community includes more than 13,000 postgraduate scholars and more than 12,000 international students from 144 countries, adding to its proud 230,000-plus alumni. The University has about 7,000 academic and professional staff and a $1.7 billion annual operating budget. Its major campuses are at St Lucia, Gatton and Herston, in addition to teaching and research sites around Queensland and Brisbane city. The University has six Faculties and four University-level Institutes. The Institutes, funded by government and industry grants, philanthropy and commercialisation activities, have built scale and focus in research areas in neuroscience, biomolecular and biomedical sciences, sustainable minerals, bioengineering and nanotechnology, as well as social science research.
UQ has an outstanding track-record in commercialisation of our innovation with major technologies employed across the globe and integral to gross product sales of $11billion+ (see http://uniqest.com.au/our-track-record).

UQ has a rapidly growing record of attracting philanthropic support for its activities and will have further success in this area as an important strategic aim going forward.

Organisational Environment

Australian Institute for Business and Economics

The Australian Institute for Business and Economics (AIBE) is a Faculty research centre within the Faculty of Business, Economics and Law (BEL) of The University of Queensland (UQ).

Established in 2014, AIBE seeks to establish UQ’s Faculty of Business, Economics and Law (BEL) as the leading institute and intellectual hub of business, economics and law research in Australia. We:

- Facilitate world-class research and publications on business, economic and law which have direct business relevance and application
- Initiate informed debate on timely public policy issues
- Undertake, facilitate and promote innovative next horizon applied research
- Initiate and sponsor informed debate on business, economic and law policy
- Increase research collaboration between the Faculty, other UQ faculties and external parties
- Increase the number of external grants and high-level consultancies secured by the Faculty
- Expand the Faculty's engagement with the Asia-Pacific region, including partner universities in the People's Republic of China

The creation of AIBE was largely made possible by the generous donation of alumnus Matt McLennan, a successful fund manager with First Eagle Fund Management and a UQ alumnus.

To achieve the above-mentioned objectives, AIBE seeks to undertake the following activities:

- Contribute to the funding of Faculty-based research which is consistent with AIBE’s objectives of policy relevance, increased collaboration and improved generation of external funding
- Assist Faculty researchers in increasing the quantity and quality of external grant applications
- Conduct active dialogue with other UQ faculties, government departments, industry, universities and civil society to identify opportunities for collaborative research and high-level consultancies
- Highlight developments and policy relevance of AIBE-supported research via the AIBE website
- Pursue opportunities to highlight AIBE-supported research in Australia and the Asia-Pacific through media and social media coverage
- Organise domestic and international research-sharing events (including conferences and workshops) and establish a distinguished visitor program
Maintain an active working paper series, highlighting the research of AIBE members and providing contemporary debate on current topics in business and economic policy

Information for Prospective Staff

Information about life at UQ including staff benefits, relocation and UQ campuses is available at - http://www.uq.edu.au/current-staff/working-at-uq
