APPOINTMENT OF
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR/
SENIOR LECTURER/
LECTURER IN TOURISM
UQ BUSINESS SCHOOL

INFORMATION
FOR CANDIDATES
CONTENTS

Message from Dean and Head of School 3
The University of Queensland 4
Governance 5
Strategic direction 5
UQ Business School 6
Introduction to Tourism 6
Role of Associate Professor in Tourism 7
Selection criteria 8
Role of Senior Lecturer in Tourism 9
Selection criteria 10
Role of Lecturer in Tourism 11
Selection criteria 12
Conditions of employment 13
About Brisbane 14
How to apply 15
Further information 16
Thank you for your interest in joining The University of Queensland (UQ) Business School at this pivotal moment in our future, and yours.

The University of Queensland is one of Australia’s Group of Eight (Go8),1 a top 50 university globally, and the state’s largest and oldest university. UQ Business School is revered as one of the world’s leading research and teaching institutions, proudly offering the number one MBA program in Australia and the Asia-Pacific for six consecutive years (The Economist 2017 MBA Ranking).

After several exceedingly strong years of growth for the Business School, the University has launched an exciting academic recruitment plan to expand our unrivalled team of world-class staff at all levels. We currently have 10,000 passionate students enrolled in our undergraduate, postgraduate and research degrees and our growing MOOCs and MicroMasters reach more than 50,000 participants located in 193 countries.

We are motivated, collaborative and focused on driving global change - and as a result, are looking to grow our talent by recruiting an additional 40 academic staff in the areas of finance, management, business information systems, tourism, marketing, accounting, strategy and entrepreneurship.

So, what are we looking for exactly? We are seeking academic staff whose career aspirations match the following criteria; motivation to lead an engaging education experience for our students and executive education clients; a record of published research in leading journals; and a desire to engage with industry and contribute to the community within the Business School.

We also encourage applications from individuals or from teams, who may wish to continue their valuable research or operational relationships within a new organisation.

For those seeking a stimulating and rewarding academic career while making a real difference in students’ education, we welcome your application.

Professor Julie Cogin
Dean and Head of School
UQ Business School

1 A coalition of leading Australian universities, intensive in research and comprehensive in general and professional education.
UQ is one of only three Australian members of the global Universitas 21; a founding member of the national Group of Eight (Go8) universities; a member of Universities Australia; and one of only two Australian charter members of the prestigious edX consortium, the world's leading not-for-profit consortium of massive open online courses (MOOCs).

UQ is committed to providing students with the best opportunities and practical experiences while at university – including interactions with researchers, industry and international partners – empowering them with transferable knowledge and skills that will prepare them to exceed expectations throughout their careers.

More than 52,000 students, including the majority of Queensland’s highest academic achievers, as well as top interstate and overseas students, study across UQ’s three beautiful campuses in South-East Queensland at St Lucia, Herston, and Gatton. They include more than 16,400 postgraduate and about 15,400 international students who contribute to a diverse, supportive and inclusive campus community.

UQ has around 250,000 graduates – including 13,000 PhDs – in more than 140 nations. UQ’s graduate employability statistics are impressive. According to the latest Graduate Careers Australia’s Australian Graduate Survey (2017), 73.5 per cent of UQ Australian bachelor’s degree graduates available for full-time work had secured full-time employment within four months of completing courses, comparing favourably to the national average of 68.8 per cent.

UQ employs more than 6,600, academic and professional staff and has a $1.7 billion annual operating budget.
GOVERNANCE

The University is governed by a 22-member Senate representing University and community interests and is led by a Chancellor and Deputy Chancellor. The Senate has delegated to the Vice-Chancellor many of its powers under the University of Queensland Act 1998 to appoint staff, manage and control University affairs and property, and manage and control finances.

For more information
uq.edu.au/about/governance

STRATEGIC DIRECTION

Delivering on the vision of ‘knowledge leadership for a better world’ is an ambitious goal in any context, but in an environment of funding uncertainty, rapid change and digital disruption, the challenge becomes amplified. Disruptive technologies are the new norm, introducing new competitors within higher education and broadening access to information on a global scale. These changes are fundamentally impacting the way universities teach, the way they conduct research, and the way new knowledge is shared with the world.

Traditional sources of funding are also in decline, forcing universities to look beyond government for financial support. Opportunities exist to build research funding from industry or international sources and the Australian higher education system continues to attract large numbers of international students. This provides important additional revenue for the sector, but it is also necessary to mitigate against the risks of becoming too dependent on foreign markets.

The University of Queensland’s Strategic Plan 2018–2021 has been developed with these issues and risks firmly in mind. To meet this uncertainty, it is vital that UQ establishes an agile and flexible foundation – uniting a diverse community to anticipate change and confidently adapt to whatever challenges this brings.

The University must enable high impact outcomes that not only provide true knowledge leadership, but inspire others to partner with us to pursue this endeavour.

Strategic focus areas

UQ must make some fundamental adjustments to our operations. It is these changes, articulated through the six strategic focus areas listed below, that form the body of this Strategic Plan.

1. Transforming our student experience through a flexible, integrated and partnered learning environment.
2. Enhancing our high quality research by improving our capacity to collaborate to achieve greater impact.
3. Building engaged and strategic partnerships with a broad range of local and global networks.
4. Committing to activities that attract, support and retain a diverse and inclusive community of high achieving staff and students.
5. Building an agile, responsive and efficient university operation.
6. Diversifying our income streams and managing our resources to establish a sustainable financial base.
UQ BUSINESS SCHOOL

The University of Queensland Business School is independently ranked as one of the top business schools in Australia and among the leading institutions worldwide. Based in Brisbane, it brings together over 130 subject experts with over 8,000 students and offers a wide range of degree programs and Executive Education.

The School has eight main areas of academic strength represented by disciplines:

- Accounting
- Business Information Systems
- Finance
- International Business
- Management
- Marketing
- Strategy and Entrepreneurship
- Tourism

UQ Business School’s mission is to cultivate courageous thinkers who empower future leaders to positively transform business and society. The School carries AACSB International and EQUIS accreditation – the first school in Australia to receive this accreditation across the full range of programs. The School enjoys strong research links with leading international research schools.

INTRODUCTION TO TOURISM

The Tourism Discipline at UQ Business School has a long tradition of excellence, with its history going back to 1972. Our undergraduate and postgraduate programs provide broad disciplinary foundations followed by majors in hospitality, tourism and event management.

Our enrolments are strong and we have extensive relationships with industry. We are the top rated tourism research institution in Australia (ERA 5) and in the Top 5 in most global rankings. We are a collegial, high-performing group who are looking for equally collegial and high-performing colleagues to join us.

UQ is a world Top 100 university and situated on a beautiful campus in sunny Brisbane Australia. This is a rare opportunity to join a vibrant group at the forefront of tourism research, teaching, and practice and we enthusiastically invite applications.

For US applicants, please note that Australian universities use British terminology, so the Lecturer position is equivalent to an Assistant Professor position in the US.
ROLE OF ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR IN TOURISM

Primary Purpose of Position
Specifically, to engage as an Associate Professor in undergraduate and postgraduate teaching and supervision and further development of the School’s programs; to undertake research of high quality, and to perform administrative and other activities associated with the School.

Duties
Duties and responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

Teaching and Learning
- To undertake leadership roles and demonstrate excellence in teaching, research, service and engagement, including a sustained record of outstanding impact and achievement that is internationally recognised in either teaching or research.
- Undertake teaching, examination and coordination of undergraduate, honours and postgraduate coursework students in the area of tourism, hospitality and/or event management.
- Contributions to the curriculum in programs offered by the School as required, including course development and redesign, preparation of teaching materials and assessment.
- Coordinate tutors and provide tutorial assistance if necessary.
- Be available for consultation with students.
- Contribute to the effective supervision of honours and higher degree by research students as required.
- Supervising higher degree by research students successfully to completion as a principal supervisor.

Research and Research Education
- Undertake research leading to publications in leading peer-reviewed journals in the field of tourism and related areas.
- Continued development of national and international profile in research.
- Seek competitive grants and industry funding for research projects.
- Presentations at key domestic and international conferences.
- Seminar presentations at other key universities.
- Research supervision at honours and PhD level.
- Contribute as chief investigator including collaborations which yield new insights and opportunities.
- Obtain and successfully manage significant external research fund.

Engagement
- Foster the School’s relations with industry, government departments, professional bodies and the wider community, and be active in making external contributions.
- Engagement with business and industry groups through presentations, promotional activities and committee work.
- Assist in student recruitment activities and promotion of the School’s profile.
- Acting as a referee for leading academic journals.
- Acting as a discussant at national conferences.
- Make a strong contribution to the governance and collegial life of the institution.
- Successfully mentor junior staff, and show leadership in external activities.

Administration/Service
- Assume formal leadership roles such as Discipline Leader, should this be required.
- Participate in the School’s Consultative Committee and serve on other University committees.
- Serve on and chair committees within the School.
- Perform leadership roles for the Head of School to foster the strategic objectives set by the school.
- Be involved in marketing the programs of the School through special events; provide inputs to marketing materials and attend overseas expos as requested by the Head of School.
- Engage in the supervision, development and mentoring of junior staff.
- Perform any other duties as directed by the Tourism Discipline Leader or Head of School.
SELECTION CRITERIA

The personal and professional attributes of the Associate Professor in Tourism will include:

Essential
- PhD in Tourism or in a discipline area directly related to the tourism discipline’s research expertise.
- An outstanding established track record of publishing in leading and premier refereed journals.
- Evidence of contributions to the research community such as seminar presentations, acting as a discussant at conferences and refereeing for leading journals.
- Demonstrated leadership and service to domestic or international academic associations, journals and professional bodies.
- A high-quality teaching track record at undergraduate and postgraduate levels, as evidenced by teaching performance metrics and the ability to lead doctoral seminars.
- The ability to support and mentor junior faculty.
- Course and program development experience.
- Experience supervising honours and higher degree students, to successful completion.
- Evidence of an ability to enhance linkages with the local community, the larger business community and professional associations.
- Demonstrate leadership and excellence in a range of settings and roles.
- Administrative experience and evidence of service contributions.
- High-level communication and inter-personal skills.
- Ability to relate to students.
- High personal work ethic to complete tasks in a timely manner.
- Experience in obtaining competitive research grants, e.g. Australian Research Council (ARC).

Desirable
- Experience in liaising and collaborating with external agencies to develop cooperative research initiatives.

Organisational Relationships
The position reports to the Tourism Discipline Leader and Head of School.

Location
This position is based at the University of Queensland St. Lucia campus, Brisbane, Australia.

Other
Ensure you are aware of and comply with legislation and University policy relevant to the duties undertaken, including but not exclusive to:
- The University's Code of Conduct.
- Requirements of the Queensland occupational health and safety (OH&S) legislation and related OH&S responsibilities and procedures developed by the University or Institute/School.
- The adoption of sustainable practices in all work activities and compliance with associated legislation and related University sustainability responsibilities and procedures.
- Requirements of the Education Services for Overseas Students Act 2000, the National Code 2007 and associated legislation, and related responsibilities and procedures developed by the University.
ROLE OF SENIOR LECTURER IN TOURISM

Primary Purpose of Position
To engage as a Senior Lecturer in undergraduate and postgraduate teaching and supervision and further development of the School’s programs, to undertake research of high quality, and to perform administrative and other activities associated with the School. Applicants with expertise and the proven ability to deliver high-quality teaching in hospitality and/or event management courses would be highly regarded.

Duties
Duties and responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

Teaching and Learning
• Undertake teaching, examination and coordination of undergraduate, honours and postgraduate coursework students in the areas of either tourism, hospitality and/or event management.
• Contributions to the curriculum in programs offered by the School as required, including course development and redesign, preparation of teaching materials and assessment.
• Coordinate tutors and provide tutorial assistance if necessary.
• Be available for consultation with students.
• Contribute to the effective supervision of honours and higher degree by research students as required.

Research and Research Education
• Undertake research leading to publications in leading peer-reviewed journals in the field of tourism, hospitality and event management or related disciplines.
• Continued development of national and international profile in research.
• Seek competitive grants and industry funding for research projects.
• Presentations at key domestic and international conferences.
• Seminar presentations at other key universities.
• Research supervision at honours and PhD level.
• Contribute as chief investigator including collaborations to yield new insights and opportunities.
• Obtain and successfully manage significant external research fund.

Engagement
• Engagement with business and industry groups through presentations, promotional activities and committee work.
• Assist in student recruitment activities and promotion of the School’s profile.
• Acting as a referee for leading academic journals.
• Acting as a discussant at national conferences.

Administration/Service
• Participate in the School’s Consultative Committee and serve on other University committees.
• Perform any other duties as directed by the Tourism Discipline Leader or Head of School.

Other
Ensure you are aware of and comply with legislation and University policy relevant to the duties undertaken, including but not exclusive to:
• The University’s Code of Conduct.
• Requirements of the Queensland occupational health and safety (OH&S) legislation and related OH&S responsibilities and procedures developed by the University or Institute/School.
• The adoption of sustainable practices in all work activities and compliance with associated legislation and related University sustainability responsibilities and procedures.
• Requirements of the Education Services for Overseas Students Act 2000, the National Code 2007 and associated legislation, and related responsibilities and procedures developed by the University.

Organisational Relationships
The position reports to the Tourism Discipline Leader and Head of School.

Location
This position is based at the University of Queensland St. Lucia campus, Brisbane, Australia.
SELECTION CRITERIA

The personal and professional attributes of the Senior Lecturer in Tourism will include:

Essential

- PhD in Tourism or in a discipline area directly related to the Tourism Discipline’s research expertise.
- Achievement of significant national recognition and have a developing international profile in research.
- Evidence of a current and active program of research including a track record of peer-reviewed publications in leading journals, and a pipeline of research-in-progress which is targeting high quality journals.
- Experience in writing competitive research grant applications.
- Evidence of established research collaborations and effective working in research teams, particularly with contributions as a chief investigator.
- Evidence of contributions to the research community such as paper presentations, and/or acting as a discussant at conferences or through service as a referee to leading academic journals.
- Demonstrated capacity for independent research.
- A high-quality teaching record at undergraduate and postgraduate levels, as evidenced by teaching performance metrics.
- Demonstrated the ability to teach across different settings, resulting in continuous improvement of curriculum, teaching resources and approaches.
- Active and effective record of principal supervision of higher degree by research students.
- Evidence of an ability to represent and promote the School at a university and wider community level, including industry, government and professional bodies.
- Demonstrated involvement in University engagement activities.
- High-level communication and inter-personal skills.
- Ability to relate to students.
- High personal work ethic to complete tasks in a timely manner.

Desirable

- Leadership skills, administrative experience and evidence of service contributions.
- Demonstrated leadership and service to domestic or international academic or professional bodies.
- Demonstrated successful coordination of a significant aspect of a program (e.g. a major or a field of study).
- Course and program development experience.
- Experience in liaising and collaborating with external agencies to develop cooperative research initiatives.
ROLE OF LECTURER IN TOURISM

Primary Purpose of Position
To engage as a Lecturer in undergraduate and postgraduate teaching and supervision and further development of the School’s programs, to undertake research of high quality, and to perform administrative and other activities associated with the School. Applicants with expertise and the proven ability to deliver high-quality teaching in hospitality and/or event management courses would be highly regarded.

Duties
Duties and responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

Teaching and Learning
- Undertake teaching, examination and coordination of undergraduate, honours and postgraduate coursework students in the areas of tourism, hospitality and event management.
- Contributions to the curriculum in programs offered by the School as required, including course development and redesign, preparation of teaching materials and assessment.
- Coordinate tutors and provide tutorial assistance if necessary.
- Be available for consultation with students.
- Contribute to the effective supervision of honours and higher degree by research students as required.

Research and Research Education
- Undertake research leading to publications in leading peer-reviewed journals in tourism and related fields.
- Seek competitive grants and industry funding for research projects, taking on the role of chief investigator (often in conjunction with more experienced researchers).
- Presentations at key domestic and international conferences.
- Seminar presentations at other key universities.
- Research supervision at honours and PhD level.

Engagement
- Engagement with business and industry groups through presentations, promotional activities and committee work.
- Assist in student recruitment activities and promotion of the School’s profile.
- Acting as a referee for leading academic journals.
- Acting as a discussant at national conferences.

Administration/Service
- Participate in the School’s Consultative Committee and serve on other University committees.
- Perform any other duties as directed by the Tourism Discipline Leader or Head of School.

Other
Ensure you are aware of and comply with legislation and University policy relevant to the duties undertaken, including but not exclusive to:
- The University’s Code of Conduct.
- Requirements of the Queensland occupational health and safety (OH&S) legislation and related OH&S responsibilities and procedures developed by the University or Institute/School.
- The adoption of sustainable practices in all work activities and compliance with associated legislation and related University sustainability responsibilities and procedures.
- Requirements of the Education Services for Overseas Students Act 2000, the National Code 2007 and associated legislation, and related responsibilities and procedures developed by the University.

Organisational Relationships
The position reports to the Tourism Discipline Leader and Head of School.

Location
This position is based at the University of Queensland St. Lucia campus, Brisbane, Australia.
SELECTION CRITERIA

The personal and professional attributes of the Lecturer in Tourism will include:

Essential

• PhD, or PhD thesis submitted / all but dissertation in tourism or related area (or in a discipline area directly related to the Tourism Discipline’s research expertise).

• Established record of publications and evidence of high-quality research, which is likely to lead to publications in leading peer-reviewed journal.

• Demonstrated successful teaching record in undergraduate and postgraduate courses, as evidenced through teaching metrics.

• An ability to represent and promote the School at a university and wider community level, including industry, government and professional bodies.

• Demonstrated involvement in University engagement activities.

• High-level communication and inter-personal skills.

• Ability to relate to students.

• High personal work ethic to complete tasks in a timely manner.

Desirable

• Developed industry liaisons and professional contacts.

• Developing profile with national recognition.
CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT

Seminar
Applicants invited for interview may be required to present a seminar in conjunction with the selection interview process.

Qualification verification
An appointment to this position is subject to the verification of the highest academic qualification from the conferring institution.

Tenure
This position is a full-time, continuing appointment.

Salary and benefits
An attractive remuneration package will be negotiated with the successful candidate. Remuneration will be subject to periodic review. These positions are entitled to four weeks’ annual leave. Other terms and conditions of employment will be negotiated with the Dean and Head of School.

Relocation
In the case of an interstate or international appointment, allowances for removal, establishment and temporary accommodation expenses may be negotiated as part of the employment contract.
ABOUT BRISBANE

The capital of Australia’s sunshine state, Queensland, Brisbane is the third largest city and the fastest-growing capital with a population of more than 2.4 million people. It boasts a safe, friendly, and multicultural environment for residents and visitors alike.

With an edgy arts scene, thriving nightlife, strong sporting community, and music and café culture, Brisbane has endless opportunities to explore within and around the city.

The inner city is characterised by the Brisbane River, parklands, convention facilities, museums, art galleries, a casino, malls, shopping districts and a host of cosmopolitan restaurants and cafés.

The city is perfect for any of your metropolitan needs, while if you venture just outside the city limits, you will find lush rainforests and sandy beaches, ideal for a relaxing getaway.

The golden beaches and fun parks of the Gold Coast are just an hour’s drive south. The beautiful Sunshine Coast beaches are a short drive to the north, along with National Parks, rainforests, and attractions such as Australia Zoo.

Not only does Brisbane enjoy over 250 days of sunshine, it also is one of the most affordable cities in Australia. Housing in the Greater Brisbane area is 83% more affordable than Sydney and 28% more affordable than Melbourne (REIQ 2017).
HOW TO APPLY

Applications should be made via UQ Jobs.

Please specify which position you are applying for.

All applicants must supply the following documents: Curriculum Vitae, Cover Letter and Selection Criteria responses.

Applicants should provide the names and contact details of at least three potential referees. These referees need not be approached in advance, as they will not be contacted without the prior consent of the applicant.

Applications close Sunday 29 July 2018.

If you have any questions about the position or the application process, please contact:

Associate Professor David Solnet
07 3346 6245
d.solnet@business.uq.edu.au

Quote reference number 504503
FURTHER INFORMATION AND WEBSITE ADDRESSES

General information on the University is available through the website uq.edu.au

Other documents to which candidates might wish to refer include:
- UQ Business School: business.uq.edu.au
- University of Queensland Business School Strategic Plan 2017-2021
- Research at UQ Business School: business.uq.edu.au/research-disciplines
- Research at UQ: uq.edu.au/research

Information for prospective staff
Information about life at UQ including staff benefits, relocation and UQ campuses is available at uq.edu.au/current-staff/working-at-uq

The University of Queensland values diversity and inclusion and actively encourages applications from those who bring diversity to the University. Please refer to the University’s Diversity and Inclusion webpage (uq.edu.au/equity) for further information and points of contact if you require additional support. Accessibility requirements and/or adjustments can be directed to hr@bel.uq.edu.au.