Building an inclusive, diverse and active humanitarian movement based on voluntary service

Role purpose

You will be connected with an older person living at home or in an aged care facility who would like greater social connections. Through your ongoing contact, you will build a meaningful friendship, reduce feelings of loneliness and encourage the older person to grow their links and social connections in the community.

Role responsibilities

- Connect one-on-one with an older person on a weekly or fortnightly basis, either through face-to-face visits, phone calls, video calls, or letters and cards.
- Spend time engaging with the participant in activities of interest. This may include listening to music together, playing cards or board games, or simply having a chat. Outings are also possible once ongoing visits are well established.
- Maintain regular communication with the Red Cross Program Officer to discuss your contact with the participant.
- Record dates and nature of contact with the participant, and submit monthly reports to the Red Cross Program Officer.

Knowledge, skills and experience

- A genuine interest in building friendship and social connections with older people to ease social isolation.
- Have an understanding of the complex health issues faced by people as they age and use this understanding and empathy during your visits.
- Effective social skills; can listen and chat to engage with people from diverse backgrounds and who may be experiencing loneliness.
- Are mature, reliable and have the confidence to work independently without direct supervision and to seek support and guidance as required.
- Holding a valid driver's licence and having a means of travel would be beneficial.

Check requirements

- A National Criminal History Check prior to commencement and renewed every three years (Red Cross will arrange this)

- Current Influenza (flu) vaccination may be required to enter an aged care facility.

Learning and development

- Complete Red Cross online learning modules as required
 - Attend Red Cross Volunteer Induction, Program Training and ongoing training as required
