About Uniting

Uniting Vic.Tas is the community services organisation of the Uniting Church. We have been supporting people and families for over 100 years. We work alongside people of all ages in local communities in Victoria and Tasmania. Our services reach to Albury-Wodonga in the north, Mallacoota in East Gippsland, the Wimmera region in the west, and across Tasmania.

We empower children, young people and families to learn and thrive. We are there for people experiencing homelessness, drug and alcohol addiction or mental illness. We support people with disability to live the life they choose. We assist older people to maintain their independence and enjoy life. We provide opportunities to access training and meaningful employment. We are proud to welcome and support asylum seekers to our community. We work to empower people with the information, skills and tools they need to live a healthy, happy life.

As an organisation, we work in solidarity with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people as Australia’s First Peoples and as the traditional owners and custodians of this land.

We celebrate diversity and value the lived experience of people of every ethnicity, faith, age, disability, culture, language, gender identity, sex, and sexual orientation. We welcome lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, gender diverse and non-binary, intersex, and queer (LGBTIQ+) people at our services. We pledge to provide inclusive and non-discriminatory services.

Our purpose: To inspire people, enliven communities and confront injustice.

Our values: We are imaginative, respectful, compassionate and bold.

1. Position purpose

The Family Violence Case Management Program provides family violence support and case management to women and their children experiencing family violence, to assist them in addressing the impact of family violence and supporting them in their recovery and wellbeing. The program uses an 8-week intervention model that incorporates risk assessment, safety planning and various forms of support such as outreach, psychoeducation, advocacy and referral.

The Family Violence Practitioner will be required to complete risk assessments using the Multi-Agency Risk Assessment and Management (MARAM), ongoing assessments for children and families using the “Best Interests” framework, and develop family action and safety plans in collaboration with families.

The Family Violence Practitioner will work closely with their team leader and senior case managers to provide immediate case work responses to individuals and families impacted by family violence, active holding, short term case work, advocacy, support, and referrals to other services.

They will also develop relationships with key agencies (including DFFH Child Protection). Through child centred, family focused service delivery; they will assist families to provide effective parenting and a stable environment to promote the safety, wellbeing, and healthy development of the children.
