Casual Academic Engagements

Summary

UNSW engages Casual Academic staff for a range of duties under the Academic Staff Enterprise Agreement

The duties an individual may be engaged for will be specified in their Offer Letter

Casual Academic staff are key to UNSW's success

UNSW aspires to continuously improve our position as a leading university in the Asia-Pacific region, focusing on contemporary and social issues through defined strengths in professional and scientific fields.

We seek to make a significant contribution to the development of knowledge, to learning and teaching, to our students and to society.

In accordance with this aspiration, we are committed to developing globally focused graduates who are rigorous scholars, capable of leadership and professional practice in an international community

We do this by:

1. Being a destination of choice for students with the greatest potential, irrespective of background.

UNSW will ensure that those admitted to educational programs at UNSW have the greatest possible potential to benefit from the programs and courses that we offer, regardless of their social or cultural background.

2. Ensuring a learning and teaching environment that provides students with an outstanding student experience.

UNSW will develop state-of-the-art facilities to meet the evolving learning and teaching needs of the twenty-first century.

3. Setting progressive, rigorous and internationally relevant curricula.

UNSW will capitalise on its areas of research strength to develop and maintain innovative academic programs and courses that:

- aim to develop UNSW Graduate Capabilities
- reflect UNSW Beliefs About Learning
- utilise Emerging Technologies to support learning and teaching, and
- embrace efficient and quality assessment practices to realise high-quality student learning outcomes.

4. Enhancing student knowledge, skills and capabilities to pursue professional careers nationally and internationally.

UNSW will provide authentic, situated learning opportunities within both its formal academic programs and courses, and its co-curricular activities.

5. Providing a contemporary and engaging campus environment.

UNSW will provide a range of formal and informal flexible learning spaces as part of a culturally and socially rich learning environment. Further, it will provide a range of quality services and facilities that enable students to undertake cultural, sporting, religious (prayer) and/or personal business activities.
