

500513 - Lecturer - Medical Education

College/Division	College of Health and Medicine
School/Section	Tasmanian School of Medicine – Launceston Clinical School
Location	Launceston
Classification	Academic level B
Reporting line	Director of Launceston Clinical School

Position Summary

The University of Tasmania is building a vision of a place-based University with a mission to enhance the intellectual, economic, social and culture future of Tasmania, and from Tasmania, contribute to the world in areas of distinctive advantage. The University recognises that achieving this vision is dependent on the people we employ as well as creating a people-centred University that is values-based, relational, diverse, and development-focused.

We are seeking to appoint an academic leader for patient partner engagement at the Launceston Clinical School in the Tasmanian School of Medicine which is part of the College of Health and Medicine.

The incumbent will work closely with the Launceston Clinical School team to deliver training in communication and consultation skills to medical students in their clinical years. The program delivered will require close liaison with third and fourth year leads of the medical program. The development of close working relationships with community members/patient partners is a vital aspect of the role. Developing and strengthening connections with community members from Aboriginal and culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds will be a special focus of the role as we seek to train our students to engage with and care for a diverse range of community members .

An ability to collaborate in the evaluation of the program is also an aspect of the role.

We are an inclusive workplace committed to ‘working from the strength that diversity brings’ reflected in our Statement of Values. We are dedicated to attracting, retaining and developing our people and are committed to inclusive principles. We celebrate the range of diverse assets that gender identity, ethnicity, sexual orientation, disability, age and life course bring. Applications are encouraged from all sectors of the community. Tell us how we can make this job work for you.

What You'll Do

- Make an effective and sustained contribution to the University in achieving its strategic objectives and fulfilling its operational responsibilities.
- Support high-quality research of national, contribute to securing external competitive and other funding, contribute to the publication of research findings and contribute to the successful supervision of medical students, in order to meet and regularly exceed the University's research performance expectations for Level B.
- Undertake scholarly undergraduate coursework teaching of a high quality.
- Contribute to the development and maintenance of productive and effective links inside the University and locally and nationally with the discipline, relevant interdisciplinary domains, profession, industry and/or wider community
- Undertake other duties as assigned by the supervisor.

What We're Looking For (success criteria)

- A PhD or equivalent in a relevant field. This includes formally recognised postgraduate clinical achievements.
- A clinical qualification registered with the Australian Health Practitioners Registration Agency.
- Clinical experience as a clinician and a sound understanding of the Australian healthcare context..
- A good record of, and continuing commitment to, contributing to research that has achieved national recognition and made worthwhile contributions to the field of clinical education demonstrated by a record of quality publications, presentations at conferences and preferably success in securing external competitive and other funding.
- Experience in University-level teaching and learning.
- A record of contributing to building and maintaining effective and productive links locally and nationally with the discipline, profession, industry (where relevant) and wider community.

Other position requirements

- Current Working with Vulnerable People registration (or to be obtained)
- Visiting and working in the field
- Driver's licence

University of Tasmania

The University of Tasmania is an institution with an enduring commitment to our state and community, and a strong global outlook. We are committed to enhancing the intellectual, economic, social and cultural future of Tasmania. Our Strategic Direction strongly reflects the University community's voice that our University must be place based but globally connected as well as regionally networked and designed to deliver quality access to higher education for the whole State.

We believe that from our unique position here in Tasmania we can impact the world through the contributions of our staff, students and graduates. We recognise that achieving this vision is dependent on the people we employ, as well as creating a university that is values-based, relational, diverse, and development-focused.

Check out more here:

<https://www.utas.edu.au/jobs>

<https://www.utas.edu.au/careers/our-people-values-and-behaviours>

The intention of this position description is to highlight the most important aspects, rather than to limit the scope or accountabilities of this role. Duties above may be altered in accordance with the changing requirements of the position.

