

Lecturer in Nursing – (Teaching Intensive)

---

College/Division	College of Health and Medicine
School	School of Nursing
Location	Launceston, Rozelle
Classification	Level B
Reporting line	Head of School of Nursing or delegate

Position Summary

The University of Tasmania is building a vision of a place-based University with a mission to enhance the intellectual, economic, social and cultural future of Tasmania, and from Tasmania, contribute to the world in areas of distinctive advantage. The University recognises that achieving this vision is dependent on the staff we employ as well as creating a people-centred University that is values-based, relational, diverse, and development-focused.

This is an exciting opportunity for an enthusiastic and motivated Registered Nurse to join a dynamic team in the School of Nursing which is part of the College of Health and Medicine. The College has a focus on boosting health and medical research performance and evidence-based learning and teaching to educate a new generation of agile health professionals and researchers with capability in leadership and future-focused health care.

With a strong background in nursing practice this teaching intensive position will contribute to student success through the educational preparation of pre-registration and post graduate students of nursing. They will assist in developing a positive culture that enables high levels of collaboration and productivity to support the vision of the University to deliver place-based education with high impacts for Tasmania.

Full time is preferred; however, a fractional role will be considered for clinicians or clinical educator

We are an inclusive workplace committed to ‘working from the strength that diversity brings’ reflected in our Statement of Values. We are dedicated to attracting, retaining and developing our people and are committed to inclusive principles. We celebrate the range of diverse assets that gender identity, ethnicity, sexual orientation, disability, age and life course bring. Applications are encouraged from all sectors of the community. Tell us how we can make this job work for you.

What You will Do

- Make an effective and sustained contribution to the University and College in achieving its strategic objectives and fulfilling its operational responsibilities.
- Meet and exceed the performance expectations at Level B in learning and teaching. The UTAS Academic Division specifies performance expectations in both research and learning and teaching for each academic level and for each discipline area.
- Make a significant contribution in the teaching of undergraduate and postgraduate contemporary nursing curricula, including unit coordination, curriculum development, evaluation and utilising emerging and online technology.
- Advance and actively contribute to the University of Tasmania learning and teaching agenda including assuring compliance with the University of Tasmania and school Quality Assurance Framework and accreditation requirements.
- Actively participate in professional development as it relates to nursing and learning and teaching in higher education and participate in local health partner liaison and community engagement.
- Work cooperatively and foster collegial relationships with academic and professional staff within the School, College, and the broader University.
- Behave in a manner that aligns with the University of Tasmania Behaviour Policy and Statement of Values and promote a vibrant, positive campus culture with a focus on safety.
- Undertake other duties as assigned by the Head of School.

What We are Looking For (success criteria)

- Registration as a Nurse with the Nursing and Midwifery Board of Australia (NMBA).
- Post graduate nursing qualifications and/or a masters qualification in nursing, or a health-related discipline.
- Demonstrated experience in higher education learning and teaching in nursing and ability to: manage and coordinate units; develop nursing curricula and to deliver dynamic learning experiences in undergraduate and postgraduate programs across all delivery modes using contemporary teaching practices.
- Demonstrated and significant experience in nursing practice (with recency) including experience in a specialty area of nursing practice.
- Demonstrated leadership capability with excellent interpersonal skills that support building transformative relationships with colleagues, students, and partners within and external to the University.
- Demonstrated capacity to contribute in service to the profession and/or discipline of nursing and the broader University and community.

University of Tasmania

The University of Tasmania is an institution with an enduring commitment to our state and community, and a strong global outlook. We are committed to enhancing the intellectual, economic, social and cultural future of Tasmania. Our Strategic Direction strongly reflects the University community's voice that our University must be place based but globally connected as well as regionally networked and designed to deliver quality access to higher education for the whole State.

We believe that from our unique position here in Tasmania we can impact the world through the contributions of our staff, students and graduates. We recognise that achieving this vision is dependent on the people we employ, as well as creating a university that is values-based, relational, diverse, and development-focused.

Check out more here: <https://www.utas.edu.a/jobs>

<https://www.utas.edu.au/careers/our-people-values-and-behaviours>