The Opportunity

We are seeking to appoint a Media Services Coordinator for Digital Futures in the Academic Division. The Digital Futures Portfolio aims to build digital capabilities that enable staff to develop contemporary and compelling curriculum and produce learning experiences that use innovative technology and learning systems. The Media Services Coordinator will work closely with the other Digital Futures Managers to drive the Digital Futures strategy.

About the University of Tasmania

In 1890, our university was founded with an important purpose: providing our island with the academic excellence to thrive. Today, we continue to make our home a better place. And working together, we do extraordinary things that have global outcomes.

From early on, our role has been to help people flourish and thrive. Isolation and a small population require us to work harder. The stories of our island are told by those needing to solve unique problems in unique ways. Here, success takes a quiet determination and adaptability. In turn, this makes us broader, more rounded, multi-skilled thinkers and creative problem solvers, and it sees our institution generative powerful ideas for and from Tasmania.

Because of our unique setting and challenges we go beyond creating places of learning. We strive to stimulate economic growth, lift literacy, improve health outcomes for Tasmania and nurture our environment as it nurtures us.

We welcome enquiring minds, from near and far, to join us in our pursuit of the extraordinary.
Accountabilities and outcomes

Purpose
The Media Services Coordinator provides operational oversight of a small team working with academic staff to provide expert media services which supports the university to deliver effective learning and teaching and high-quality online student experiences. This is accomplished by providing support within the Media Services team in the fields of photographic, videography, animation and design services for learning and teaching activities, and offering technical advice to employees of the University for a variety of projects involving all types of media. The role will work closely with teams across the organisation to support university brand guidelines to further enhance the development of services and will apply innovative design to projects to create engaging learning solutions for our students. The role also supervises a small team and determines workload allocation and areas for further development.

Key Result Areas

- Project coordination of media related activities including stakeholder engagement, project scoping, prioritisation, budget planning, timelines for project completion and project outcomes.
- In collaboration with Digital Futures management, manage and maintain equipment and software needs for the Media Services team, as well as management of stock images, quoting and invoicing for external client work.
- Provide operational oversight to, and direct the activities of, the Media Services team.
- Lead and support the Media Services team to develop, as well as contribute to the development of, media assets to enhance the quality of learning materials and improve the student experience, adhering to University branding.
- Complete quality assurance checks and training to support the Media Services team in delivering high quality services to the Colleges.
- Provide training and mentoring to academic and professional staff to improve their media production capabilities, adherence to accessibility guidelines and encouraging best practice for audio and video recordings.
- Prepare activity reports and overviews for management as required.
- Initiate new innovative projects and collaborate with employees across the University involved in media production in Digital Futures and the Colleges.
- Provide advice on, and oversee the implementation and evaluation of, emerging technologies, including generative AI tools, to improve team efficiency and productivity.
- Undertake other duties as assigned by the supervisor.

Behavioural Expectations
We aim to everyone to have a positive experience at our university, and all staff contribute toward creating a university culture that is safe and supportive, enabling our community to flourish by:

- Treating all others – staff, students and community with fairness, equity and respect.
- Ensuring the workplace is an inspiring and safe place to be.
- Ensuring the workplace is free from harassment, bullying, victimisation and discrimination.
