About Charles Sturt University

Purpose

The Wiradjuri phrase yindyamarra winhanganha means the wisdom of respectfully knowing how to live well in a world worth living in. This phrase represents who we are at Charles Sturt University – our ethos. It comes from traditional Indigenous Australian knowledge, but it also speaks to the vision of the university – to develop and spread wisdom to make the world a better place.

Vision

Charles Sturt University is set to undergo a decade of great reform that will see the university characterised by these key elements:

- An uncompromising drive towards excellence in every aspect of its operations
- A far-reaching strategic re-positioning of teaching, learning, research, and innovation
- A cementing of our position as Australia’s pre-eminent rural and regional university

The overarching aim is to consolidate our institution so that it is demonstrably more resilient and sustainable by the end of the decade.

Goals

To deliver on our purpose and vision, the university has three key goals:

1. Maintain the university’s position in the top five Australian universities for graduate outcomes based on employment and salary
2. Embed a culture of excellence across all aspects of the university’s operations
3. Exponential growth in research, development, and innovation income in our chosen areas, delivering high impact outcomes for regional Australia

Our values

Charles Sturt has a proud history and is fortunate to have an outstanding group of diverse, passionate, and engaged people working with us. Our values of insightful, inclusive, impactful, and inspiring guide our behaviours and ways of working to help us achieve our ethos of creating a world worth living in.

Performance measures

In addition to the principal responsibilities all staff are required to contribute to the success of the university strategy including meeting university’s eight key performance indicators:

Our Students	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Commencing progress rate • Student experience
Our Research	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Research income • Research quality and impact
Our People	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Engagement • All injury frequency rate
Our Social Responsibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Underlying operating result • Community and partner sentiment

Position overview

The Lecturer in Clinical Dentistry will be a clinical academic with significant experience in clinic coordination and undergraduate teaching in clinical dental practice. Principal teaching duties include supporting the integration of pre-clinical and clinical teaching in the Charles Sturt Bachelor of Dental Science (BDS) program and clinical supervision within novice to professional entry-level student clinics.

This is a continuing full-time position and offered initially with a teaching/research work function. However, it may be offered as a teaching focused position by mutual agreement. However, the incumbent must maintain clinical practice and professional registration with the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA). The incumbent may be able to provide clinical services in the CSU Oral Health and Dental Clinics upon negotiation with the Dean of Dentistry and Oral Health and the Clinical Director.

The incumbent will contribute to the teaching and administration in the discipline, and work closely with the Associate Heads of School in the SDMS in their portfolios, such as learning and teaching and research. If engaged with a teaching/research work function, the incumbent will have a record of published research in a field relevant to Dentistry and progress an active research profile with a strategic research and innovation focus aligned to the overall strategies of the University. If engaged with a teaching focused work function, the incumbent will be expected to engage with the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning within the Scholarly Activity Framework.

The CRDOH places great importance on its relationships with the dental and health care professions, the relevant professional and accreditation bodies, and with rural and regional communities.

Principal responsibilities

- Contribute to the development and implementation of quality assured learning and teaching practices in the Bachelor of Dental Science (BDS) program and other programs, such as the Bachelor of Oral Health Therapy course, as required.
- Provide leadership in clinical teaching, including the supervision of novice to professional entry-level student clinics.
- Provide positive learning experiences for students through the provision of fair, reliable and valid assessments and the delivery and receipt of constructive feedback, and promote a culture of mutual respect between staff and students
- Provide mentoring to support the academic development of colleagues.
- Establish and maintain strategic relationships and networks with a range of stakeholders including community, government and industry/professional bodies.
- Expand current knowledge and understanding of the relevant discipline through original and substantial contributions to industry engagement and/or scholarly activities or similar.
- Develop and execute a research plan with a strategic research and innovation focus aligned to the overall strategies of the University if engaged with a teaching/research work function.
- Build a record of research which contributes to the development of the discipline whilst maintaining up-to-date research records within Charles Sturt's Research Output repository (CRO), commensurate with work function, and including evidence of engagement with the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning within the Scholarly Activity Framework.
- Foster partnerships with the professions that bring direct benefit to the strategic work of the university, in terms of teaching, workplace learning, course profile and/or areas of research strength.
- Contribute to the development and improvement of policy and practice through involvement in professional/industry associations, accreditation authorities, conference organisations, advisory bodies, and national or international delegations, consistent with the University's Outside Professional Activities Policy.
- Other duties appropriate to the classification as required.
