About Deakin

Deakin's growing reputation is reflected in its rapid rise in international rankings; Deakin entered the prestigious Academic Ranking of World Universities for the first time in 2014 and now ranks an estimated 262 (ARWU 2020). Deakin is ranked 29 in the QS ranking of the world's top universities under 50 years.

Established in 1974, Deakin University was named after the leader of the Australian Federation movement and the nation's second Prime Minister, Alfred Deakin.

Deakin University has five campuses, one in Melbourne's eastern suburbs, two in the port city of Geelong, one in Warrnambool on the south-west coast of Victoria, and more than 15,000 students study predominantly online as part of Deakin's Cloud Campus.

All students, regardless of their campus or mode of study, benefit from Deakin's award-winning digital environment.

Deakin is proud of its inclusive and student-focused culture and its reputation for using innovative digital solutions to provide an engaging and personalised learning experience. Deakin is committed to lifelong learning, providing students with choices about how, when and where learning occurs.

Deakin prides itself on developing career-ready graduates who are innovative, resilient, and well prepared for rapidly changing workforce needs. Deakin has a strong focus on teaching, with student satisfaction and the employability of its students being key indicators of success. Deakin ranks first in Victoria for student satisfaction (SES) and graduate employability (GOS).

research capabilities

Deakin's four faculties offer courses across the arts, design, science, sport, nutrition, architecture, business, law, medicine, optometry, engineering, nursing, allied health, psychology and teaching.

With over 60 000 students Deakin is one of Australia's largest universities and is consistently ranked in the top 1% of the world's universities.

As an Australian university with global impact, Deakin is translating its research into the commercial outcomes that will drive the innovation Australia's economy needs now and into the future. Research at Deakin focusses on innovation and robust partnerships with industry and business, and it is building a formidable international reputation in areas of emerging national social, economic and political priority in its core areas of health, sport, carbon fibre, energy and cyber security. Deakin's manufacturing innovation precinct provides an important link between technological innovation and successful industry outcomes, strengthening and streamlining pathways for commercial research.

Our strategy

Through the strategic plan Deakin 2030: Ideas to Impact, Deakin's ambition is innovation and excellence in both education and research generate ideas that transform lives and communities. We will be Australia's most progressive and responsive university, leading in blending digital capability with our distinctive campus precincts. We will leverage strong partnerships to maximise the social, cultural and economic impact we deliver regionally, nationally and globally.

- We excel in both education and research.
- We value both excellence and equity.
- We are leaders in digital capability
- We are agile and responsive to community need.
- Indigenous Knowledges and Ideas form our future.
- We deliver impact locally and globally.
- We seek to grow where growth aligns with strategy.

Faculty of Arts and Education

The Faculty of Arts and Education offers an exciting range of programs in teaching and research in Communication, Creative Arts, Social Sciences, Education and Indigenous Knowledge and Culture.

These are the human disciplines, which are vital to improving personal and professional outcomes and contributing to Australia as an equitable, humane and innovative society.

The Faculty comprises four key academic entities:

- School of Communication and Creative Arts,
- School of Education,
- School of Humanities and Social Sciences, and the
- National Indigenous Knowledges Education Research Innovation (NIKERI) Institute.

Leading strategic research innovation centres, the Alfred Deakin Institute for Citizenship and Globalisation, Research for Educational Impact (REDI) and the Deakin Motion.Lab-Centre for Creative Arts Research and the Centre for Humanitarian Leadership, enable our internationally renowned academics to lead thinking, ideas, research and teaching in their respective disciplines.

We have earned high international regard for innovation in creative arts, human sciences, including humanitarian leadership, criminology, contemporary history, teacher education and Indigenous knowledge. The Faculty's practices are founded on Deakin's longstanding commitment to equity and the achievement of personal, professional and community benefit through the power of education.

The Faculty celebrates staff excellence and success in teaching, research and a strong commitment to high quality outcomes that serve our communities. In the context of a rapidly changing and innovative digital world, we are working to achieve significant advancement for a sustainable future through:

- exciting courses that respond to demand, innovation and professional readiness
- international strategic partnerships in teaching and research for high quality outcomes
- commitment to Indigenous knowledge, teaching and research in partnership with the National Indigenous Knowledges Education Research Innovation (NIKERI) Institute
- strong collaboration between Schools and Research Innovation Centres with communities, professions and partners
- achieving increased success for students, colleagues and the communities we serve.

Deakin's promise to equity, diversity and inclusion

At Deakin we value diversity, embrace difference and nurture a connected, safe and respectful community. We recognise that our academic workforce is increasingly diverse with a variety of backgrounds, experiences and responsibilities. In many cases, academic careers can be put on hold through career breaks or part-time work arrangements to take on caring duties, gain experience in other industries, for medical reasons or other personal circumstances. Achievement relative to opportunity places more emphasis on the quality as opposed to the quantity of research outputs. In your application, we encourage you to comment on your achievements relative to opportunity.

School of Education

The School of Education has achieved a QS ranking of 27 and ERA assessment of “Above World Standard” and “High” in impact. It is one of the larger schools in the University and operates across four campuses – Melbourne Burwood, Geelong Waurin Ponds, Warrnambool and Cloud (online). The School is a leading provider of primary and secondary teacher education, early childhood educator preparation, education leadership and adult, vocational and applied learning education.

The School is committed to improving educational outcomes for all. Academic staff support innovative developments with communities at local, state, national and international levels. We have a wide range of expertise including: Arts Education; Mathematics Education; Science, Technology and Environmental Education; Health and Physical Education; Language and Literacy Education; Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages; Teaching Languages; Humanities Education; Pedagogy and Curriculum; Educational Policy, Leadership and Internalisation; Early Childhood Education; Applied Learning and Professional Education and Training.

Research

Education at Deakin is world standard, with a QS ranking of 27 and ERA assessment for 2015-2018 that is “Above World Standard” and “High” in Impact. Our Strategic Research Centre – Research for Educational Impact (REDI) – supports a culture of innovation and development through four distinctive programs of research that are led by renowned scholars. REDI works in collaboration with educational researchers from a number of disciplines including CRADLE, Deakin University’s Centre for Research in Assessment and Digital Learning and has established research partnerships with key stakeholders, international scholars and agencies, including government, industry and schools. REDI supports purposeful, strategic knowledge transfer through scholarly publications and professional forums, to impact policy and practice. Our Partnerships Office offers specialised services for tendered and contract research across the globe.

Pre-service and professional teacher education

The School’s undergraduate and graduate initial teacher education programs for early childhood, primary, secondary and vocational and applied teaching are nationally accredited and leading change in ITE. A suite of postgraduate programs provide continuing professional learning and include Certificate, Graduate Certificate and Masters level courses with specialisations in Educational Leadership and Administration, Education Business Leadership, Specialist Inclusive Education, STEM Education, Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) and Teaching Languages. Optional pathways and flexible entry and exit points provide versatility for busy professionals. Our Graduate Certificate of Education Research fosters a program of research and innovation for teaching professionals and provides a pathway to doctoral studies. The School also offers the Graduate Certificate of Higher Education Learning and Teaching, to support professional development for academic staff. Our strong doctoral programs are focused on preparing the next generation of researchers and academics for Education.

Our students and study modes

Many courses are offered on-campus to students at the Melbourne Burwood, Geelong Waurin Ponds and Warrnambool campuses and all are enriched through Cloud-mediated delivery. We maintain a strong commitment to distance learning and offer courses to students throughout Australia and internationally via Cloud Campus (online) delivery. In addition, we welcome students from many regions, including North and South America, Europe, the Middle East and Asia, to study in our on-campus courses or to undertake higher degree research.
