1. PREAMBLE

The Southern Adelaide Local Health Network (LHN) provides care for around 341,000 people living in the southern metropolitan area of Adelaide as well as providing a number of state-wide services, and services to those in regional areas. More than 7,000 skilled staff provide high quality patient care, education, research and health promoting services.

Southern Adelaide LHN provides a range of acute and sub acute health services for people of all ages, and has three hospitals, Flinders Medical Centre, Noarlunga Hospital and the Repatriation General Hospital.

SALHN Intermediate Care Services will deliver multi-disciplinary clinical care, addressing complexity through targeted approaches to complex chronic disease management in the community, and supported hospital discharge and avoidance programs. There is a key focus on building partnerships across the care continuum supporting interfaces between Acute sites, GPs, Primary Care and Community based services.

Mental Health Services provides a range of integrated services across community and hospital settings, targeted at all age groups, in collaboration with non-Government organisations and Southern Adelaide Fleurieu Kangaroo Island Medicare Local (SAFKIML).

More than 450 Allied Health professionals work across Southern Adelaide Local Health Network (SALHN) providing services across all levels and environments of a patient's care journey – in home, 'intermediate', acute hospital, subacute including (p)rehabilitation, outpatient, ambulatory and community-based care. Allied Health (AH) professionals provide expert care from the fields of audiology, dietetics, occupational therapy, orthotics and prosthetics, physiotherapy, podiatry, psychology, social work, speech pathology, art therapy and spiritual care.

SALHN AH provides care, treatment and support for children, adults and their families who live in the southern suburbs of Adelaide, as primary practitioners and as members of broader health care teams.

SALHN AH aims to become a national leader in AH care, blending the best of collaborative clinical practice, leadership and research with optimal efficiency, effectiveness and positive health impact for the people of the southern suburbs of Adelaide.

'One SALHN. One Allied Health. Striving for excellence in collaborative patient care.'

Primary Objective(s) of role:

The incumbent is responsible to the Manager, Dietetics & Nutrition, for the assessment, care and education of both inpatients and outpatients. Providing a nutrition and dietetic consultative service to medical, nursing and allied health personnel.
