Position Context/Purpose

A Level B teaching focussed academic is expected to work without the need for close supervision to develop curriculum, coordinate subjects, teach and undertake scholarly work relevant to the development of teaching in biochemistry, cell biology, biotechnology, molecular genetics/genomics, biomedicine or a related field. In addition, an academic at this level will contribute to these disciplines at the local and/or national level. They will normally play a significant role in scholarly and/or professional activities relevant to the profession. An academic at level B is expected to demonstrate teaching excellence in keeping with the La Trobe Teaching Excellence Principles and maintain a track record of excellence as evidenced by Student Feedback on Teaching (SFT) surveys, peer-feedback on teaching and through other evidence-based measures.

Duties at this level may include:

- Demonstrate effectiveness by taking an evidence-based approach to evaluate learning and teaching initiatives.
- Demonstrate a scholarly approach to learning and teaching by contributing to La Trobe's SoTL including sharing of good practice.
- Coordinate and teach subjects providing a high-quality learning experience that engages students through the conduct of asynchronous lectures, tutorials, practical classes, demonstrations, workshops, and/or other sessions in online, blended or face-to-face modes.
- Provide constructive, fair and timely feedback on learning to students.
- Initiate and participate in innovative subject and course level curriculum design, development and review in areas such as, but not restricted to, online and blended delivery, taking an evidence-based approach to evaluate how these initiatives improve the student experience.
- Contribute to knowledge transfer and to building relationships at a local level.
- Serve on committees at the Department and School level as required.
- Undertake other duties and administrative functions commensurate with the classification and scope of the position as required by the Head of Discipline, Department or Dean.

Essential Criteria

Skills and knowledge required for the position

- PhD degree in Biochemistry or Cell Biology, or related areas.
- Demonstrated tertiary teaching experience in the following areas: biochemistry, cell biology, molecular genetics/genomics, biotechnology and/or biomedicine
- Demonstrated effectiveness in teaching, curriculum development and subject coordination in face-to-face, blended and/or online modes, as evidenced by sustained high results on student feedback on teaching surveys, teaching excellence awards or through other forms of evidence.
- Evidence of innovative initiatives using cutting edge approaches (e.g. Artificial Intelligence) undertaken in the last three years that have improved the student experience, and the evaluation of effectiveness of these initiatives.
- Demonstrated ability or potential to engage with the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning.
- Demonstrated high level oral and written communication skills, including the ability to interact effectively, collaboratively and productively with staff and students from a diverse range of backgrounds.
- Ability to produce outputs related to the Scholarship of Learning and Teaching.

Desirable Criteria

- Graduate Certificate in Higher Education or similar evidence of professional preparation for higher education teaching.

Capabilities required to be successful in the position

- Ability to demonstrate self-awareness, see things from another person's perspective and actively seek out and act on feedback to improve knowledge, skills and behaviour.
- Ability to work collaboratively, recognise the value of diversity and model accountability, connectedness, innovation and care.
- Ability to think creatively, explore new ideas and respectfully challenge existing practices in order to improve current ways of working.
- Ability to implement improvements to local processes.
- Ability to enable a safe, inclusive, high-performing team culture, prioritising staff mental health and wellbeing.

Essential Compliance Requirements

To hold this La Trobe University position the occupant must:

- hold, or be willing to undertake and pass, a Victorian Working With Children Check; AND
- take personal accountability to comply with all University policies, procedures and legislative or regulatory obligations; including but not limited to TEQSA and the Higher Education Threshold Standards.

Other Information

The position description is indicative of the initial expectation of the role and subject to changes to University goals and priorities, activities or focus of the job.
