■ Position Summary

Australian Red Cross' Migration Support Programs works to assist migrants in transition to ensure they have their humanitarian needs met and are participating and included in Australian society. We seek to support people who are particularly vulnerable due to their circumstances, for example, people seeking protection, with restricted access to support and services, or vulnerable to exploitation. We work directly with those seeking help, irrespective of their legal status, their background, or how they arrived in Australia. Australian Red Cross also works to directly contribute to the Red Cross Red Crescent Movement's increased impact on migration across the world.

Red Cross has worked in this area for over 25 years, providing assistance and protection to migrants, people seeking asylum, refugees, people in immigration detention, people who are stateless, people who are trafficked or subject to forced marriage, and separated family members, according to their humanitarian needs. The focus of our work is to prevent and reduce the vulnerability of migrants, to protect them against abuses, exploitation, and denial of their rights, and to facilitate opportunities to build on their strengths, and contribute to their communities.

Red Cross is responsive to the changing context and needs of migrants, and integrated in service delivery, activation, and influence. We are connected locally, nationally, and globally through our networks across the Red Cross Red Crescent Movement, the community, businesses, and government sectors. Migration Support Programs operates within an ongoing, adaptable model to ensure relevance and impact.

Red Cross is working alongside the Victorian Government to implement a pilot program providing support to people in Victoria on temporary and provisional visas, as well as people who may not currently hold a valid visa to increase their access and understanding of existing COVID-19 vaccination services. The program will run for a period of 3-months with the aim to support people to better understand and access COVID-19 vaccination services.

The Family Connector is responsible for providing information and practical support to people in Victoria on temporary and provisional visas, as well as people who may not currently hold a valid visa to access vaccination centres, and where possible referrals to other support and services available.
