About Uniting

Uniting Vic.Tas is the community services organisation of the Uniting Church. We've been supporting people and families for over 100 years. We work alongside people of all ages in local communities in Victoria and Tasmania. Our services reach to Albury-Wodonga in the north, Mallacoota in East Gippsland, the Wimmera region in the west, and across Tasmania.

We empower children, young people and families to learn and thrive. We're there for people experiencing homelessness, drug and alcohol addiction or mental illness. We support people with disability to live the life they choose. We assist older people to maintain their independence and enjoy life. We provide opportunities to access training and meaningful employment. We're proud to welcome and support asylum seekers to our community. We work to empower people with the information, skills and tools they need to live a healthy, happy life.

As an organisation, we work in solidarity with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people as Australia's First Peoples and as the traditional owners and custodians of this land. We celebrate diversity and value the lived experience of people of every ethnicity, faith, age, disability, culture, language, gender identity, sex and sexual orientation. We welcome lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, gender diverse and non-binary, intersex, and queer (LGBTIQ+) people at our services. We pledge to provide inclusive and non-discriminatory services.

Our purpose: To inspire people, enliven communities and confront injustice

Our values: We are imaginative, respectful, compassionate and bold

Orange Door

The Victorian Government has committed to implementing all 227 recommendations of the Royal Commission into Family Violence and to delivering on the vision described in Roadmap for Reform: Strong families, Safe children.

A key recommendation of the Royal Commission and the Roadmap for Reform was to establish a network of Support and Safety Hubs ('Hubs') across Victoria to provide a new way for women, children and young people experiencing family violence, and families who need assistance with the care and wellbeing of children to access the services they need to be safe and supported. These Hubs are known as The Orange Door.

The Orange Door is also intended to hold perpetrators to account by planning interventions to address the risk they pose and challenging their controlling, violent and abusive behaviour.

The Orange Door keeps the whole family in view and provides a more visible contact point to access family violence services, family services and perpetrators/men's services, with expert support tailored to each family member's needs.

Position Description

Children and Young Person's Practice Leader

The safety of victim survivors and children is The Orange Door's first priority. The Orange Door also recognises that a gendered understanding of family violence and an understanding of child and family vulnerability are critical to effective services and systems. The Orange Door is accessible, safe and welcoming to people, providing quick and simple access to the support and safety they need. They will also engage perpetrators and plan interventions to hold them to account.

Given the phased approach to implementing The Orange Door and the evolving nature of the design process, certain elements of the service model may change over time. The role and operations of The Orange Door will not be static or fixed at one point in time. Just as the practice of The Orange Door will be informed by emerging needs and evidence, and firmly embedded with the principle of continuous improvement, the design and implementation of The Orange Door will continue to develop and be informed by community needs, co-design, evaluation, and practice learnings. Future development of the service model will continue to be set at the statewide level, informed by local practice and experience.

Role of The Orange Doors

The Orange Door will deliver a fundamental change to the way we work with women, children and families, and men. The role of The Orange Door is to provide:

- a more visible contact point so that people know where to go for specialist support
- help for people to identify family violence and child wellbeing issues
- advice based on contemporary risk assessment tools and guidance
- specialist support and tailored advice for victims, families and children, and perpetrators
- connection and coordination of access to support
- a system-wide view of service capacity, client experience and outcomes

The Orange Door will support the agency of women, children and families, to ensure that the services they receive meet their needs and their goals.

The Orange Door will help to maintain a focus on perpetrators, so the risk they pose can be assessed, and they are held to account for their behaviour.

The Orange Door Team

The Orange Doors will bring together different workforces and practices to create an integrated Orange Door team and a consolidated intake point in each Orange Door area to create a new way of support for:

- women, children, young people and families experiencing family violence
- perpetrators of family violence
- families in need of support with the care, development, and well-being of children.

This will be achieved by drawing on the expertise of CSOs, Aboriginal services and DFFH and their deep connections with people in local areas, and bringing together workers from organisations that currently:

- receive police referrals for women and children who are victims of family violence
- receive police referrals for perpetrators of family violence (known as 'Enhanced Intake Services')
- receive child wellbeing referrals
- provide the Child FIRST service
- deliver other relevant services as appropriate, such as those delivered by Aboriginal services

The Orange Door team will include a mix of staff employed by FSV and staff employed by CSOs, Aboriginal services and DFFH. For each launch site the size of the team will vary to reflect the local needs and available resources. The Hume Merri-bek Orange Door is currently characterised as a medium sized team with around 90 full time effective positions. This is anticipated to grow over time. The primary access point is in Broadmeadows with two access points being planned in high demand areas across the Hume Merri-bek catchment.

1. Position purpose

The Children and Young Person's Practice Leader is a practice leadership position in the Support and Safety Hub (The Orange Door).

The Orange Door service model recognises the safety of infants, children and young people as an inalienable right, distinct from their parents or guardians, and that each infant, child and young person has unique needs that will be assessed individually.

Auspice by Uniting within the Hume Merri-bek Orange Door network, the Children and Young Person's Practice Leader will work in collaboration with the Hub Manager, other practice leaders and team leaders to lead the delivery of high quality, safe and effective service responses to Victorians seeking support and services through The Orange Door.

In the Hume Merri-bek Orange Door the Practice Leader roles auspice by partner agencies include:
Senior Child Protection Practitioner/s (DFFH)
Advanced Family Violence Practice Leader (Berry Street)
Advanced Family Violence Practice Leader (Men's) (DPV Health)
Aboriginal Practice Leader (VACCA)
Children and Young Person's Practice Leader (Uniting) &
Two Integrated Practice Leaders (Uniting and Berry Street).

The Orange Door leadership team operates within a matrix management model to facilitate this integrated practice and to ensure that the specialist advice from a range of disciplines can be shared and promoted outside of the traditional line management reporting lines.

The Children and Young Person's Practice Leader will hold responsibility for providing expert practice leadership on engaging children and young people, assessing risk and needs for the infant, child, young person and family, and supporting interventions for infants, children and young people impacted by family violence and/or experiencing vulnerabilities due to other factors.

The Children and Young Person's Practice Leader will proactively build the capability across The Orange Door workforce, working collaboratively to engage with children and young people to ensure that the experiences and voices of children and young people inform the service response in line with The Orange Door Service Model and the Best Interests Case Practice Model.
